Men Entered Home At Night
And Dragged Her Away
Despite Mother's Plea

By Associated Press

Bastrop, La.—Addie May Hamilton, known as "daughter of the Klan" because of the witness stand in the open hearing investigation Wednesday into the slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards, she was forced to leave her home near Mer Rouge and was deported from the state by the "Ku Klux."

She named Dr. B. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge and "Pink" Kirkpatrick as two of the party of men who she testified came to her mother's home one night, took her away and put her aboard a train for Little Rock Ark., the home of her sister. The young woman gave her age as 17.

"How do you know the Ku Klux sent you to Little Rock?" G. S. Gorton who began the questioning of the young woman asked.

"Because," Dr. McKoin and "Pink" Kirkpatrick and about six others came to my mother's house about 10:30 o'clock at night and told me they were going to send me away."

"Do you know positively it was Dr. McKoin and Kirkpatrick?"

"Yes, Sir, I recognized it was Dr. McKoin who was masked, but he was the only one doing any talking. They came to the house and pulled their

LIFTING THE HOOD

Lillington, N. C. — A sentence of 12 months at hard labor was imposed on Mark Moore, a Harriet-co resident, on conviction of conspiracy and trespass, after Ira M. Faircloth, a farmer neighbor, had testified Moore entered his house at night, wore a white robe and hood and warned him against utterances derogatory to the Ku Klux Klan. Faircloth told the court he stuck a pistol in Moore's stomach when he approached his bed and forced him to remove the robe and mask.

guns and told my mother that 'Addie May will have to leave town tonight.' My mother asked them what for. 'Because,' Dr. McKoin said, 'Addie has been leading an immoral life.' My mother said, 'Why don't you send others away.' Dr. McKoin said, 'We are going to.' My mother got down on her knees and pleaded but they made me leave. They told us if anybody showed their heads out of the door they would 'blow us off.' They made me leave without a hat. Dr. McKoin struck my mother when she made a dual plea for me to be allowed to remain. My mother attempted to shove them out of the room. She begged them to let her go to the depot. They refused. They put me in an automobile and Dr. McKoin gave me $7 for my fare to Little Rock. He told me if I did not catch the train I would be tarred and feathered the next day. We were put on the back seat of the automobile and 'Pink' Kirkpatrick threw his legs across my lap."

"What did he do that for?"

"I don't know."

"Where was your father?"

"FATHER WAS AWAY"

"About 10 miles away in the country."

"You had no baggage?"

"No."

"How much was the fare to Little Rock?"

"Six dollars and 23 cents."

"Did you have any other money?"

"Yes, sir."

"When was this?"

"It was in January 1922."

"When did you return to Mer Rouge?"

"Last May."

TOLD TO KEEP AWAY

"When you were sent away were you told you could not return?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you return?"

"Mr. Hugh Clark and W. E. Hopkins said they would fix it up with the Ku Klux. I got a letter from them telling me everything was all right to come back. I came back. Mr. Clark and Mr. Hopkins were friends of my family and they interceded at the request of my sister."

At times Addie May stopped in her recital to wipe away a tear, especially during her account of the pleading of her mother. Further questioning was in the same vein in an effort to bring out other facts and points the attorneys deemed essential.

PROMISES NAMES IN CAPITAL BOOZE FLOW

High Official To Be Included In
List Of Representative
Upshaw

Washington—The spotlight of bootlegging rumors and charges which has been hovering over Washington has shifted back to the Capitol Wednesday with the declaration by Representative Upshaw, Democrat of Georgia on the floor of the house that "bootleggers ply their devilish trade among too many public men in Washington."

Because the house was not a "justice court" the Georgia representative said he would not make public names of senators and representatives "who do not practice the prohibition which their votes profess."

In the evidence he was preparing to turn in, he said he would include the name of a high official not a diplomat who returned from abroad some time ago with more than a score of cases of foreign liquor marked "diplomatic."

Coming on the heels of assertions by the local police authorities that they had found indications that liquor consigned to some of the embassies and legations was finding its way into the illicit traffic here, Representative Upshaw declared in his speech the problem of "use and abuse" of such liquor importations was one that "calls for delicate but firm treatment."

MOONSHINERS TO FACE SENTENCE

Stills Are Found At Homes Of Cognneau At Oneida And
Steward At Seymour

The first persons that John A. Lonsdorf, new district attorney, had to prosecute were moonshiners, in connection with which Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke saw his first service in criminal arrests since he took office.

Two men answering to the names of Octave Cognneau of Oneida and Sidney Steward of Seymour pleaded guilty before Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Wednesday morning following raids conducted Tuesday by Thomas H. Martin, federal prohibition enforcement officer, Sheriff Zuehlke and Fred Fries, deputy sheriff.

A still for the manufacture of moonshine whiskey and a quantity of mash were found on the premises of each. In addition a pint of illicit liquor was found in Steward's possession. The men now are awaiting sentence by Judge Spencer, which has been postponed until Monday.

HAMLET TURNS BOLSHIEV ON ORDERS OF MOSCOW

By Associated Press

London—A Sovietized "Hamlet," revised and adapted "in accordance with the modern spirit of the time," is rehearsing in a Moscow theatre, newspapers of that city announce.

The play is inspired by the commissariat of education, which ordered the state institute of theatrical art to produce in Shakespeare's hero in the bolshevik version of the drama is not a Danish prince, but a prominent Communist leader fighting against the bourgeoisie and capitalism. All of Hamlet's famous soliloquies and speeches have been rewritten and put into revolutionary rhetoric and a popularized interpretation of the gospel of Communism.

200 ATTEND CONVENTION

BUILDERS OF WISCONSIN IN SESSION HERE

Mayor Welcomes Visitors To City—Expect 600 Members
Here Thursday

Practically 200 members of the Master Builders association of Wisconsin were registered at Eagle hall at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon when the eleventh annual state convention of the association was called to order by Richard C. Ferge of Milwaukee. Builders from all parts of the state had registered during the morning at the convention headquarters at Eagle hall. A joint meeting of the boards of directors of the Master Builders association and the Builders' Mutual Casualty company of Wisconsin took place at Conway hotel at 9:30 for conference purposes.

Martin Boldt, president of the Master Builders association of Appleton gave the greeting and mayor Henry Reuter gave the address of welcome at the opening session. The president's message was also given. It was followed by the introductions and the appointment of committees. There was a joint session of the members of the Master Builders association and the Builders Mutual Casualty company with Joseph Tyrrell of Madison, president of the insurance company as chairman.

HEAR TWO ADDRESSES

Two addresses took place at the afternoon session, the one by Dr. D. O. Kinsman of Lawrence college on the "Problems of Prices" and another on "Apprenticeship" by Walter E. Simon of Madison, supervisor of apprenticeship of the industrial commission of this state. The annual report of the insurance company was given and was followed by the election of directors for the insurance company.

A theatre party scheduled for 8 o'clock Wednesday evening to be followed by dancing at Eagle hall. Each of the delegates and visitors was given a card of admission for the dancing party when he registered. Admission will be by card only.

Three important discussions will take place on the Thursday afternoon program which will be held in Lawrence Memorial chapel. Two sides of the question of unemployment compensation insurance will be presented at this session. State Senator H. A. (Continued on page 11)

WANTS U. S. REPARATIONS REPRESENTATIVE HOME

By Associated Press

Washington—Recall of Roland W. Royden, the unofficial American representative on the Reparations commission was demanded Wednesday in the senate by Senator Reed Democrat, of Missouri.

"An unofficial representative is an unofficial meddling," declared Senator Reed, who added that such a representative was capable of doing as much harm as an official spokesman.

Socialists Back Up Blaine Men In Legislature

Union Is Step For New Party,
Declares Statement Issued
By Milwaukee Senators At Madison

By Associated Press

Madison—A step toward the establishment of a new political party to prepare the way for Socialism was taken when "the radical state senators bolted from the regular Republican caucus of that party Tuesday night," Assemblyman Thomas M. Duncan and Senator J. Hirsch, Socialist leaders, declared in statements to both houses of the Wisconsin legislature when it convened here Wednesday.

With this declaration, the Socialists threw their support to the LaFollette-Blaine candidates for legislative offices, when organization of the houses was made. In the senate their three votes gave the governor the strength needed to organize the upper house. In the assembly their ten votes were thrown to the administration to swell its majority.

AIM AT PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

"The present privately owned industrial system is tottering—its evident weakness in Europe and America has produced a new political party in this country in fact if not in name," the Socialist statement said. "The mission of this new group is to act as St. John the Baptist, for the new order to prepare the way for Socialism," it continued.

The LaFollette legislative conference in Washington, the Socialist-Farmer-Labor nonpartisan conference at Cleveland were John the Baptist groups.

"The bolt of the radical state senators from the regular Republican caucus controlled by the Wall Street faction of that party is a step in the same direction. Furthermore the LaFollette-Blaine platform upon which a majority of the Wisconsin legislature was elected in November 1922, is distinctly a John the Baptist document as to taxation, labor, the farmer and war and militarism. In fact it differs from the immediate Socialist program as outlined in the 1922 state Socialist platform in two of the 14 planks.

"It is our duty therefore as Socialists to assist in crystallizing this group which is solemnly pledged to prepare the economic way for the successful inauguration of the Socialist society. We accept their refusal to caucus with reactionary elements as a pledge of their sincerity. We therefore cast out votes for their candidates."

WILL NOT RESIGN

Madison—Senator George F. Staudenmeyer, who Tuesday served an ultimatum on governor Blaine demanding that he be supported by the administration forces for the chairmanship of the finance committee, said Wednesday that he was satisfied with assurances given him by the conference of senators and would not resign from the senate as he had threatened to do.

A promise was made by the pro-Blaine senators that seniority of service would be observed in making selections for the finance committee, according to Senator Staudenmeyer, who said that this meant his selection to head this most important of senate committees.

Set Barn On Fire In Marshfield War

Marshfield—A fourth outbreak of terrorism attributed by authorities here to opponents of the Mill creek drainage project occurred Tuesday when fire, believed incendiary, was discovered in the barn on the Gus Wunrow farm, two miles south of here. Wunrow lives near the home of J. R. Chapman whose wife was killed two weeks ago by the explosion of a bomb sent through the mails as a Christmas package.

Mr. Chapman, who also lost his hand in the blast, had been an active proponent of the drainage project and Wunrow has been one of his chief supporters.

The fire was discovered shortly before noon, in a quantity of baled hay in the large barn. Prompt help by

Administration Leaders Bolt Republican Caucus — Name Huber Of Stoughton As Blaine Spokesman

By Associated Press

Madison—Organization of the state senate of the Wisconsin legislature was completed Wednesday afternoon with the election of LaFollette-Blaine candidates to all positions. Socialist members on every issue voted with the administration and offered no candidates of their own, establishing a precedent and carrying out their announced coalition with the governor and his backers.

Madison—Administration senators bolted the Republican caucus in the upper house of the Wisconsin legislature Wednesday night, after they had determined at a conference held in the executive chambers Tuesday afternoon to attempt organization of the senate from the floor Wednesday. In this move they are depending upon the votes of three Milwaukee socialists to aid them in the election of LaFollette-Blaine officers and members of the committee on committees of the upper house. Their afternoon meeting brought out that the most the governor's forces could depend upon at a caucus of Republicans would be 14 votes while 15 might be mustered by their opponents.

GIVES BLAINE MAJORITY

Organization from the floor Wednesday, accepting the Socialist support, will give the administration 17 votes or more than a majority of the 32 members.

Senator Henry A. Huber of Stoughton, after the conference of LaFollette-Blaine men, announced that he had been named the spokesman for the administration forces, but that he had nothing to say concerning the caucus bolt.

TO SUPPORT BAY MEN

The Republican caucus decided to support Timothy Burke, Green Bay, for president pro-tem; Col. O. G. Munson, Viroqua, for chief clerk; Vincent Klepinski, Milwaukee for sergeant-at-arms and Senators W. L. Smith, Neillsville, Theodore Bentley, Sheboygan and A. H. Warden, Ashland, for the committee on committees.

TREE FALLS ON FARMER; MAN BLEEDS TO DEATH

By Associated Press

Elkhorn, Wis.—James Hargreaves, 50, a prominent farmer living in the northern part of Spring Prairie township, Wednesday was killed Tuesday afternoon while working in the woods not far from his farm. He was caught under a falling tree and died from loss of blood shortly after help summoned by his son who was working with him removed him from under the tree. The bones in his legs and arms were crushed, and an artery severed.

HURLEY WOMAN TAKES SHOT AT HUBBY; JURY FREES HER

By Associated Press

Hurley—A jury in Circuit court here Wednesday found Mrs. Isabel Verbois not guilty of the charge of shooting her husband with intent to kill. Mrs. Verbois is alleged to have shot her husband in a Hurley saloon several weeks ago because of what she termed "inhuman treatment" and his "failure to turn over the cash receipts of the saloon's profits to her." He recovered about two weeks ago.

FIVE WORKERS LOSE LIVES IN MINE DISASTER

Enter Inner Workings Despite Warning—Near Scene
Where 90 Died

By Associated Press

Birmingham, Ala.—Entering the pit in the face of a warning that it was dangerous, five miners met death in Dolomite mine No. 1, of the Woodward Iron company here early Wednesday morning in a gas explosion. The men were killed outright.

Four of the miners were Negroes and the fifth, W. E. Lewis, 53, white. Dolomite No. 1, is about two miles from Dolomite No. 3, where 90 miners were killed last November in a dust explosion and is part of the same seam of coal worked by the Woodward company.

The blast was confined to "one room" in the mine. All that prevented greater toll was the fact that the few men were in the pit at that hour, it was stated in early reports.

Gas had been discovered in the mine and warnings posted instructing none to enter.

FARMER'S HOUSE BURNS TO GROUND

Neighbors Save Furniture From House At John Jennings's
Farm

New London—Only the household furniture remains from a fire which destroyed the home of John Jennings, wealthy farmer, near Northport Tuesday afternoon. The loss is said to be covered by insurance.

Members of the Jennings family in the home where not aware of the fire until neighbors called their attention to the blaze. Hasty efforts then were made by a number of farmers to save the household furniture, and they managed to remove most of the articles before the flames drove them back.

It was impossible to save the house because of no facilities for fighting the fire but the other farm buildings were prevented from catching fire by the judicious use of water.

It is believed the fire was caused by sparks from the chimney alighting on the roof.

RESUME TESTIMONY IN HERRIN MINE RIOT TRIAL

By Associated Press

Marion, Ill. — Attorneys defending five union miners charged with murder during the Herrin riots, again Wednesday appeared to present testimony for their clients. Nineteen witnesses testified Tuesday that two of the defendants Joe (Armagh) and Leva Mann were at least a mile away when the six non union miners who had been taken from the strip mine were marched through Herrin to a cemetery where they were shot down.

4,000 NEW YORK NEEDLE WORKERS SETTLE STRIKE

By Associated Press

Washington — An agreement was reached Wednesday by manufacturers of children's wearing apparel and approximately 4,000 striking employees in New York under which work will be resumed immediately, according to information received by the department of labor. The agreement affects 65 shops. Negotiations also are under way. It was said to terminate the strike of 10,000 other clothing workers in New York.

Harding Orders Soldiers Home

Army of Occupation to Leave Germany As French and Belgium Troops Spring to Seize Ruhr

Washington—Withdrawal of the American troops from the Rhine was ordered Wednesday by President Harding.

In announcing the decision the state department said that the President deemed the time expedient for the recall of the forces now at Coblenz.

The American forces remaining in that area number about one thousand men, and it was indicated that the withdrawal order would be carried out as soon as the American commander, Major General Allen, could make the necessary arrangements for winding up finally the affairs of the army of occupation.

A resolution favoring a withdrawal was adopted Saturday by the senate but it was not apparent Wednesday how far it had contributed to the president's decision or how far the administration had been influenced by the situation brought about by the French movement into the Ruhr valley.

UP TO WAR DEPARTMENT

The date of actual withdrawal will be left to the war department where it was said that American evacuation of the Coblenz zone would be conducted in an orderly fashion.

Officials of the state and war departments refused today to make any explanation of the decision to recall Major General Allen and his forces other than to repeat that it was considered expedient to complete at this time American withdrawal from Europe.

Secretary Weeks was called to the white house early Wednesday and the purpose of the government to withdraw the troops was disclosed before his return.

WANT TROOPS TO STAY

By Associated Press

London—A Reuters despatch from Cologne Wednesday afternoon says: "The attitude of the Germans in the British area is venomously anti-French. A large irresponsible section of the population favors active resistance and the wildest rumors are abroad. Fears are expressed lest the British and American troops should be withdrawn."

FLOTILLA STATIONED AT MAYENCE
Will Move Ahead
Tonight

By Associated Press

London — The British government has granted France permission to move troops through the British occupied territory along the Rhine in pursuance of the French plan for occupation of the Ruhr.

Paris—Germany was formally notified of the prospective seizure of the Ruhr district by a French foreign office official who drove up to the German embassy at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Brussels—The first Belgian troops to be put in motion for cooperation with the French in occupying the Ruhr entrained here Wednesday in four trains for Aix La Chapelle. They totaled 1,800 men.

Tanks for the Ruhr have left directly from Ghent. The troops from Brussels comprised infantry, machine gunners, cavalry, aviators and transport service men. The men were selected from various regiments, for their proficiency.

EVERYTHING SET

Paris — The time for starting the French invasion of the Ruhr was still unknown Wednesday. Every preparation for the final order to "go ahead" has been made with clocklike precision.

It was generally understood that the plan as it stood Wednesday, called first of all for sending engineers into the Ruhr, to take over certain mines. These experts will be adequately but not ostentatiously escorted by the military. It is thought that the distrust will be increased in proportion to Germany's failure to give satisfaction.

The military escorts will be quartered on the outskirts of any towns so occupied and the soldiers will be kept from contact with the inhabitants. As soon as the order to advance is received from Premier Poincare engineers and experts will set up an organization at Essen which will check all coal shipped back to France.

FLOTILLA ORDERED AHEAD

Cologne—The French Rhine flotilla stationed at Mayence will move to Dusseldorf, Ruhrort and Duisburg Wednesday night.

WITHDRAW TROOPS

Berlin—No further advance by the French was reported from any point in the unoccupied area early Wednesday. The troops which arrived Tuesday night at Muelheim, 15 miles northeast of Dusseldorf and at Speldorf, nearby, have been withdrawn in the direction of Duisburg.

Prim's Hotel Getting Back Its Business

The days of pinbaling are being revived it would appear from records of the local police. In recent years, especially since the entry of the United States into the World war, the number of Weary Wilkes had been gradually declining. It may have been because in war days a man had to work or fight. It may have been because the business of professional "bores" was not so profitable as in previous years. But they are coming back here in increasing numbers. Local police records show that there were 315 lodgers at the public station in 1922 which is an average of more than one a night. Seven years ago the number was 722. In the year 1918 there were but 149, and in 1919 the number of lodgers was 127.

MUST HAVE AUTO LICENSE BY FEB. 1

Large Number Of Motorists Already Using New Plates Here

Now is the time for automobile owners to get their 1923 automobile license and number plate, if they have not already done so. Application blanks may be secured at the police station, the office of the county clerk and at local automobile garages.

The old 1922 license will be sufficient until Feb. 1 provided application has been made for the 1923 plates. It is understood that a quantity of license plates is available at the office of the secretary of state and that number plates are being mailed promptly to the applicants. The color of the plates is white with red numerals.

Appleton motorists are filing their application blanks quite regularly according to Chief George T. Prim, and the outlook is that there will be an other banner year for automobiles. The assessment as of May 1, 1922 listed 1742 automobiles in Appleton, or about one automobile for every eleven persons in this city. The aggregate assessed value was $745,965. The year 1922 was a good automobile year and it is certain the number of car owners increased since last May.

$7,425 GIVEN FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF BY LOCAL DONORS

Werner Will Act As Chairman Because Of McMillan's Departure

The Near East committee of which the Rev. A. L. McMillan was chairman for the last two years and whose acceptance of a Milwaukee pastorate made it necessary for him to tender his resignation has been credited by the Milwaukee headquarter with $7,425 in cash and pledges and with $4,800 in clothing and shoes a total of $12,225 which covers Appleton and Outagamie co. Last year the city and county got a credit of $1,000 in cash and nothing for clothing and shoes.

The credit on clothing and shoes is made at the rate of 75 cents a pound. The total number of pounds received, packed and shipped was 6,400. The Rev. Mr. McMillan who looked after this part of the work said the contributions were in exceptionally good condition.

George F. Werner general secretary of the Y M C A is acting chairman of the committee for the purpose of closing up the year's work. The pledges made in the various churches or to the New York or Milwaukee headquarters, the same as they have been said. Because of the generous response in both money and clothing in Appleton there is not likely to be another appeal in the near future Mr. Werner declared.

COUNCIL IS IN NO HURRY WITH BRIDGE PROGRAM

Mayor And Engineer Tell Rotarians That Deliberations Are Slow

In discussing the bridge program of the common council before the Rotary club at its luncheon at Conway hotel Tuesday noon, Oscar F. Weissgerber, city engineer, said no attempt was being made by the council at "railroading" the Cherry-st bridge and so far as he was concerned he had no personal interest at stake.

To make it possible for members to follow him more closely he displayed a large map of the city to which he frequently referred and on which the various bridge sites were indicated.

In a brief historical sketch the city engineer said the bridge question was first considered Feb. 22, 1919, when negotiations were started with Harrington, Howard & Ash, consulting engineers of Kansas City, with respect to a bridge across Fox river. The city advertised for bids which were rejected and the project was tossed back and forth from then until the last 30 days when definite action was taken, he declared.

OPEN UP MORE LAND
Speaking of John-st bridge which has a right of way of only 16 feet with 4-foot sidewalk, the engineer said it was planned to widen it by removing the present walk and adding one on each side, but that could not be done at present because of financial reasons.

The engineer called attention to the location of the different bridges on the map, John-st, Law-st, Lake-st, Lake-st viaduct and the proposed Cherry-st bridge which he claimed would open up one-half section of land.

"I have no interest in any of them," said the engineer, "and I have nothing to say where the bridge will be located."

Going back to early history, the council considered building a bridge on Lake-st, then talked about a bridge on Cherry-st, and then on Lake-st, declared Mr. Weissgerber.

"May 16, 1919, we received an estimate," he said, "on a high level bridge on Law-st of $80,000; one of Lake-st viaduct which was to touch the northside of the river near the vocational school of $490,000 plus $45,000 for car line; and one for Cherry-st bridge of $190,000 plus $15,000 extra for car line."

"We received a bid on Law-st bridge amounting to $75,000 for a high level structure which was vetoed by Mayor J. A. Lawes Jan. 7, 1920. From that time the question has been tossed back and forth."

CHANGE MIND AGAIN
"On August 3, 1921, or shortly before, the council decided to build Law-st bridge and received a bid of $59,800 which was considerably less than the original bid, but changed its mind."

"On July 28, 1922, we asked for estimates on Cherry-st bridge which dropped to $150,000 and on Law-st bridge which dropped to $48,000. That was the time to build, but we were not ready."

"Dec. 21, 1922, when Mr. Ash was here, the estimates made then on the detailed plans on Cherry-st bridge were approximately $200,000 which did not provide for a car line. Law-st bridge was estimated in the neighborhood of $65,000, or the contract price of $59,800 allowing $4,000 or $5,000 for incidentals."

Mr. Weissgerber said the increase in the estimates was due to the increase in the cost of steel, to labor and to changes required by the government. The government now demands that two of the piers be skewed and that fenders be placed on two which adds about $5,000 to the cost. After the flood last summer other changes in the plans were proposed by the government that made additional costs of between $6,000 and $7,000.

LAWEST PLANS
Referring to Law-st bridge, the engineer said it was to have a 20-foot roadway with a 6-foot walk, and is to cross the river on a grade of three and three-tenths per cent raise per 100 feet. The present hill is 9 per cent. The plan is to raise the bridge 12 feet on the north end. The first plans were for a high level bridge which would raise it 20 feet. Finally the council decided to make it a semi-level bridge.

The present Appleton-st hill is steeper than Law-st hill, Mr. Weissgerber said. The engineer estimated the grade of the chair factory hill at 12 per cent and said he had seen the fire department go up it from a standing start.

It will be necessary to pave Law-st and make the fill on each end, he said. The paving and filling are estimated at $7,000 in addition to the cost of the bridge.

After describing the two Lake-st viaduct projects the most favorably considered of which he said was the Conway plan, the engineer called attention to the proposed Cherry-st bridge which is 984 feet long with 32-foot roadway and 7-foot sidewalk. The structure is to have a 70-foot clearance above high water, he said.

GET RIGHT-OF-WAY NOW
As to the land required on the south side of the river, Mr. Weissgerber said the assessed valuation is $1,500. The plan is to provide a street 100 feet wide, 4 feet wider than College-ave, and build two 20-foot roadways similar to those on west College-ave, with a 30-foot boulevard in the center. There is nothing on the property but trees and the engineer said the time to acquire it is now, that it never will be cheaper.

Mr. Weissgerber said a year ago the city collected $100,000 in income taxes which was set aside as a bridge fund and this amount will be increased this year by $75,000 for which provision has been made. The money will be available and the pro-

SHOULD HAVE A STOP LIGHT
A very amusing incident occurred Saturday night in front of Pettibone's. A young man, who stopped unexpectedly in the crowd to light a cigar, was run into from the rear by a baby carriage. He was struck in such a way that he lost his footing and suddenly sat down in the baby carriage much to his own embarrassment and the baby's amazement.

SHE WAS DISAPPOINTED
I saw a woman about 35 years old "hop a bob" on Superior-st. When it reached College-ave, it turned east. The woman got off and said out loud: "Oh, he is going the other way."

MAKES IT HOT FOR THEM
In an office down town where people are wont to congregate and sit around to talk, the proprietor has worked out a splendid way for keeping the crowd moving. He places all the chairs around the stove and when he is busy, he fires up and it gets pretty hot. One by one the guests decide to be moving on.

IT WAS IRISH CONFETTI
Tuesday I was walking near St. Mary church when a man went along the sidewalk passed the church on Seventh-st. He had just passed the steps when the wind knocked two bricks down from the roof. He walked back, picked up the bricks and threw them off the walk.

HIT THE PEANUT TRAIL
I was standing in front of Schlitz Drug store when I saw a young lady coming along carrying a bag of peanuts. There was a hole in the bottom of the bag which allowed the peanuts to drop out one at a time. A little boy was following her at a short distance picking up the peanuts as they fell.

position can be put through without being burdensome, he declared.

In a short statement, Mayor Henry Reuter said before any steps were taken with reference to letting the bridge contracts the council would carefully consider the bids and if necessary call for new ones. Just what will happen in that respect, no one can foretell, he said. He assured members no attempt would be made at railroading any proposition through without proper consideration.

The mayor said the city would reap many benefits from Cherry-st bridge. In the first place, many valuable sites will be available for fine residences. It is a question whether one can find any location that will offer as fine a residence section, he said.

BOTH OF THESE CHILDREN WERE SICK WITH BRONCHITIS

Father John's Medicine Gave Them Prompt Relief

When Mrs. Geo. Smith of Canton found that her children had severe cases of bronchitis, she decided to try Father John's Medicine and she says, "My children are in better health since using the medicine. I think it is a great body builder. My boy was seriously run down and it has built him up so that now he is in excellent health." Signed, Mrs. Geo. Smith, 154 Fawcett Court, Canton, Ohio.

For over 67 years Father John's Medicine has been proven the greatest body builder. It is a pure, high grade emulsion of cod liver oil with other ingredients and is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.

COME ON IN, WATER'S FINE

On North Division-st Sunday afternoon I saw a dove taking a bath in a large basin of water. The bird took its time in spite of the chilly weather. After its shower, it stood in the water and looked around as much as to say: "Come on in, you pikers, the water's fine."

EXCITED, BITES HIS MASTER

A Ford going along Second-ave ran over a dog injuring his legs. His master, who saw the accident, came out and called the dog, but he could not move. The man then went out into the road to pick him up, but the dog was so excited and suffering so that he bit his master. The master talked kindly to him and then went back to the house for a pair of gloves. He picked up the little dog and carried him carefully into the house.

PAVING WILL TAKE TRAFFIC FROM '15'

Completion of the paving of state trunk highway 57 running between Chicago and Green Bay within a short period is assured by action of Illinois and Wisconsin authorities. The state of Illinois and Lake-co, Ill., will finance paving of the road to the Wisconsin line, Wisconsin authorities to care for the remaining stretches.

Upon the completion of the new highway, much of the traffic on Sheridan-rd, known in Wisconsin as Highway 15, will be carried upon this road along Lake Michigan shore. According to officials, less than 13 miles remain unpaved at the present time between Milwaukee and Chicago.

Mothers Advise Their Daughters to Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Keep Them in Health

A Mother's Advice Prevents Operation

Corona, N. Y.—"I had a terrible pain in my left side and had to go to bed every so often. Doctors had told me I must be operated on, but I do not believe in the knife and would rather suffer than go through it. My mother also did not believe in it and she made me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because it had helped her. It has also helped me for I am better and able to do all my work. I recommend your medicine and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. BUSCH, Jr., 11 S. Railroad Avenue, Corona, N. Y.

A Sickly Child

Mahoningtown, Pa.—"I would like to say a few words about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. About a year ago I thought it would be necessary for me to take my daughter out of school. She was losing weight, was nervous, and when she would come home from school she would drop into a chair and cry, and say, 'Mamma, I don't believe I can go to school another day.' I gave her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now she is a healthy, happy, hearty, strong girl and weighs 120 pounds. She has no difficulty in doing her 'gym' work, and she works at home every night and morning, too. I am a mother who can certainly praise your medicine, and if it will be of any benefit you may use this letter as a reference."—Mrs. GEORGE E. WHITACRE, 621 W. Madison Ave., Mahoningtown, Pa.

Every girl wants to be healthy and strong, and every mother wants her daughter to do well in school and to enjoy herself at all times.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for young girls just entering womanhood. Mothers may depend upon it. Remember it is prepared from roots and herbs, contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they will work in a healthy and normal manner.

For nearly fifty years it has been used by women of all ages, and these women know its great value. Let it help your daughter and yourself.

HIGHWAY 15 AND APPLETON'S BRIDGE PROBLEMS

One of the principal arguments that have been used for construction of a bridge across the Fox river at either Lake street or at Cherry street was that the new structure would take away a large portion of the traffic from the narrow Lake street bridge and the dangerous railroad crossings in the "flats." Until the Wisconsin Highway commission announced last week that it purposed to pave the road between Appleton and Neenah, on the west side of the river, and route Highway 15 over that road, a new bridge seemed to be the only way the congestion and the resultant danger could be removed. The highway commission, however, has offered a way out of the city's difficulty which should not be ignored.

It is admitted that the traffic over the Lake street bridge, especially during the tourist season, is much too heavy for safety or for comfort. More than 3,000 vehicles cross the bridge daily in midsummer, far too many for the narrow confines of the structure.

Last summer Prof. Leonard S. Smith city planning engineer, in order to ascertain the facts about Appleton's traffic, stationed counters on the bridge and at the corner of Lake and Foster streets, where traffic turns to Neenah. The count was made on several occasions and revealed that approximately 70 per cent of all the vehicles which cross the Lake street bridge either turn toward Neenah or come from Neenah. That means that at least 2,100 out of every 3,000 vehicles crossing the bridge should be listed as "through traffic."

It is more than probable that at least 90 per cent of all the automobilists who drive to Neenah travel over the Lake street bridge and the Menasha road because the highway on the west side of the river is not paved and not marked. Tourists naturally will follow the marked highways and a considerable portion of the traffic which uses the Lake street bridge is tourist traffic. Appleton people drive to Neenah by way of the Menasha road because it is paved; they would rather brave the dangerous railroad crossings and weave their way through Menasha than drive over an unpaved highway.

The highway commission has announced its plan to pave the west road. It is part of its program and it is also part of its program to change Highway 15 so that it will avoid the center of Neenah, Menasha and Appleton. It has always been the desire of state highway officials to avoid congestion centers in routing the trunk roads but local influences have been sufficient in many instances to induce the commissioners to send traffic through cities when they would rather have sent it around them. Rerouting 15 is not a new idea; it is only in line with the commission's policy.

Tourist traffic that has no business in the Twin cities or in Appleton naturally will follow the trail which will save the most time for them. They know the difficulty of driving through the business districts of cities. Appleton people driving to cities beyond Neenah or to Neenah would prefer the west route because it is less dangerous and a more beautiful drive. At least 50 per cent and possibly a larger proportion of the traffic which now uses the Lake street bridge will travel over the west route when the highway commission's program is carried out. That will mean at least 1,500 vehicles a day less over the present bridge, a sufficient number to relieve the congestion.

The council might show that it is sincere in its handling of the bridge problem by thoroughly investigating the commission's plan. A consultation with the commission no doubt would answer the question of when the rerouting will be done. The highway commission's plan has considerable merit. It deserves the careful consideration of the council as a possible means of removing Appleton's bridge difficulties and of reducing the heavy tax burden of the people.

CIRCULATION

There are certain aspects of the newspaper business which the public would find intensely interesting if it were enlightened and newspaper circulation is one of them. To the average reader a statement of circulation is nothing more or less than a compilation of figures, a braggadocio of the publishers by which means they tell the world how big they are. Fortunately or unfortunately this is not the case.

The meaning of circulation of any publication is distribution. Circulation is a misnomer because a publication does not circulate in the true sense of the word. Duplicated copies of that publication are distributed in thousands, hundreds of thousands or even up into the millions. No publisher can look upon circulation as quantity sales from which he will derive immense profits, because invariably the subscription price of any publication is nowise commensurate with the cost of publication. Each new reader is an added cost to the publisher. It is therefore necessary to consider the human side of circulation in order to grasp its full meaning and catch the inspiration which lies therein.

Growth in newspaper circulation is in general the stamp of approval of reader patronage. This does not mean that every reader approves of a newspaper in every respect, but that he wants to receive every issue of the paper in order to read certain things which do interest him. And the publisher knows that in ninety-three cases out of a hundred where one copy of his paper is delivered there is an average of five individuals who read it—at least parts of it. This is the appeal which stirs the publisher to do greater things—to render a greater service to the multitude of human beings who find that certain of their interests coincide with what they find on the printed page.

An increased variety of items, an improvement in the dispatch of up-to-the-minute information, special articles or pictures that amuse, entertain or enlighten—all are prompted by a responsive patronage whose encore is felt in a material way by an increase in the demand for the newspaper in which the desired things may be found.

The Post-Crescent has experienced a remarkable growth in circulation since its establishment. Commensurate with this expansion the Post-Crescent has attempted to enlarge its newsgathering facilities and raise the standard of its special features. Much may have been accomplished in the past, much more is planned for the future. The Post-Crescent may or may not be living up to its idea of service. Its readers shall judge.

TODAY'S POEM

SAD LIVES

The people who live in an underwear ad
Must have an embarrassed career.
They're forced to go round pretty nearly unclad
Except for some underwear sheer,
Or woollens, of course, when the weather is bad
Along at this time of the year.
And dressed in such fashion—it is quite negligee,
They have to go forth to their work or their play.
And then there's the case of the hosiery maid,
Who's seldom permitted to dress,
But has to be more or less lightly arrayed
(It couldn't be very much less).
In order that hosiery may be displayed
In all its luxuriance.
(Poor girl, though she's pretty and dainty no doubt,
She's kept in her boudoir and never let out.)
But saddest of all is the life of the woman
Who lives in the bath night and day,
In order that pictures of her may illumine
The ads which the plumbers display.
For all that she wears—it is rather inhuman,
Is simply a mantle of spray.
Observing these unlucky people, I'm glad
That I do not live in a magazine ad!

THE MINT ROBBERY

For unadulterated nerve and physical courage the masked bandits who held up the Denver branch of the Kansas City Federal Reserve bank, killed the guard and made off with $200,000 in paper currency, are almost without equals. The crime, serious enough as it was, leaves the impression that this was no amateur job. It was a big party which risked life and limb to make this haul, a crowd of sufficient size to put up quite a pistol fight if a running battle had been required. And while Denver is stupefied at what occurred, and police are scouring the country to catch a trace of the thieves the lesson of this affair is obvious—too much precaution cannot be taken to prevent enterprises as the one in Denver. We have a reign of terror in robberies, etc., from time to time in this country and great ado is made over the events. For a while we stay awake and carefully guard our treasures. Then things quiet down and the first thing we know we are lulled to sleep and all suspicion and care is removed. Eternal vigilance is the price of safety. Removing a fortune of this kind ought to have been accompanied by every possible police protection. But it doesn't appear to have excited even the remotest concern.—DAYTON NEWS.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE NERVOUS SYSTEM

Persons who have disease of the nervous system are seldom "nervous" in conduct or temperament. Indeed, most such invalids are rather strikingly serene and philosophical if not veritable paragons of good cheer. On the unhappy other hand, persons who use their "nerves" as an all around alibi, extenuation and excuse for whatever belittles are little if any more subject to disease of brain, spinal cord or nerve tracts than people who are honest with or to themselves.

An eminent English physician, a Harley street specialist of course, having recently asserted that there is "really no such thing as 'nervous breakdown' or 'overwork' it begins to look as though there must be at least one person besides myself who believes that is so.

There's a master of expression, the man who first compared "nervousness" with hiding in a funk hole. He was an American physician, I think, at any rate one of our own doctors employed the funk hole idea two or three years before this Harley street orator.

Not consciously or willfully, but by sheer force of habit and bad discipline, the neurotic individual seeks his funk hole rather than meet the everyday trials of life.

In another talk I have risked the loss of what little reputation for common sense I still hold, by asserting that every man (not to question the other sex) is more or less insane in the medical sense of the word; it is only when one's insanity progresses to the legal limit that we take formal cognizance of his irresponsibility. Each of us has his little obsessions, delusions, or hallucinations. Likewise everybody uses a funk hole for some exigencies, says to avoid attending church or court or neurotic patients. When there is something we wish to dodge we have a "nervous spell" or "breakdown" and when this becomes a habit we are neurotics.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cocoa Is Wholesome
Does cocoa make the blood thin, or is it injurious in any way? I have always supposed it to be good, but recently have been told it thins the blood.—E. H. Answer—Cocoa is a wholesome beverage for persons over 16, not for young children. It does not injure the blood or the health. The objection to cocoa for children is that it stimulates the kidneys which is undesirable in childhood. When taken at lunch it gives a false satisfaction that is, satisfies the appetite and keeps the child from taking sufficient sustaining food. Milk should be given young children, or soups, rather than cocoa.

Automatic Oilier
I am not a flapper and I never use a powder puff in public, but I could command good wages in a jewelry shop for just thrusting my nose into the works I could oil a clock or watch. My nose is so oily that little beads of oil actually show on it and make a handkerchief positively greasy.—H. O. S. Answer—Gently mop the nose night and morning with cotton, and then powder with zinc stearate powder.

Dangerous Drug Habit
Suffer with bronchitis and leaking heart, lost so much sleep, only relief when I use aspirin. Kindly inform.—E. W. Answer—Acetylsalicylic acid is rather depressing to the heart, so I fear you are taking long chances resorting to such a drug.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Wednesday, January 12, 1898
Attorney Simpich was in Green Bay on business. Henry Hoffman's residence on Bennett st. was slightly damaged by fire the day previous.

Sophia Schroeder, 35, the oldest person in Appleton, died the previous day at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Koehnke, 363 Lake st.

Col. H. A. Frambach, of Kaukauna, was granted a patent upon a process for applying gum or glue to the surface of a web of paper.

The scaffolding in St. Joseph church was about completed and the work of decorating was to commence the day following. About $2,000 was to be expended.

The street lighting committee made a proposition to A. L. Smith to give him $65 per lamp for lights every night, to burn all night.

The new officers of the Clio club were: President, Mrs. Killen; vice president, Mrs. Newell; secretary, Mrs. Gochnauer; and treasurer, Mrs. Mackenzie.

The last of the immense pile of stone taken out of the tailrace of the Little Chute, paper mill was sold by the owner, Luther Lundauer of Kaukauna to John Bach of Kaukauna.

William Schroeder of the town of Freedom was injured in a runaway while returning home from Appleton by being thrown from his wagon.

TEN YEARS AGO

Wednesday, January 8, 1913
The new $40,000 Elks building was to be formally dedicated Monday evening, Jan. 27. Judge John C. Karel of Milwaukee was to deliver the principal address. The dedicatory ball was to be held the following evening.

The contract for the erection of the new River-view sanatorium near Little Chute was awarded to A. Luckow of Kaukauna.

The fifty-fifth regular session of the Wisconsin legislature was called to order at Madison by C. B. Shaffer, chief clerk.

The new automobile license plates were making their appearance in the city. They were deep blue in color and nickel figures.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Gurnes returned from Des Moines, Ia., where they were called by the death of Mrs. Gurnes' father.

Two hundred and fifty boxes of twins were offered at the meeting of the Appleton dairy board at the Northwestern house and was sold for 16 cents per pound.

A meeting of the creditors of David Hammel, bankrupt, was to be held before Paul V. Cary, referee in bankruptcy, Jan. 20, at which time a dividend was to be declared and paid.

Kansas Cities Are Taking To City Manager

Topeka—The city manager idea of municipal government has taken on a new impetus in Kansas this winter. Topeka and Parsons, two cities of the first class, are conducting campaigns to adopt the manager plan, and Ottawa, a city of the second class, is talking about adopting it.

There are 269 towns in the United States with the manager form of government, and Kansas towns for some years have been watching the growth and success of the idea. Wichita was the first to adopt the plan. Eldorado and Salina are recent converts. There was considerable delay in following Wichita's lead, although most cities of any size in the state have adopted the commission form of government and have found it a great improvement over the old council form.

The commission form fixes responsibility quite definitely among the city departments. But the manager form is more definite in fixing responsibility, and it is this that has the great appeal to those that want the cities to be governed by the most business-like methods.

BIG SAVING AT WICHITA

The annual statement of the Wichita city manager, showing an actual saving of 1/4 million dollars, has caused the citizens of nearly every Kansas city to take particular notice of the advantages of the manager plan. Both Eldorado and Salina have been able to make material savings and reductions in taxes simply by adopting business methods in handling civic affairs. The business powers of the city are concentrated in one manager, with a board of directors to act the same as the board of directors in any large corporation. Every responsibility is centered directly in the manager.

Kansas has been at the top of the list in the number of commission-governed cities for several years, and the interest taken in the city manager form at the present time indicates the state soon may go to the top of a list in number of manager-governed cities.

Topeka has reorganized the old City Club to put the manager plan into operation. This club was the one that obtained the adopting of the commission form. George C. Bowman, head of the Seymour Packing company, is president of the club. Within the next week all the active committees will be named and will be at work handling the various activities necessary to make the campaign a success. Beginning Tuesday, the city manager of Dayton, O., will make seven or eight speeches in three days to various civic organizations, explaining how the manager plan operates in Dayton and how it enabled the development of big flood protection plans in that city.

Union labor in Topeka and at Parsons is opposed to the manager form of government. Mayor Alfred Coad of Parsons is head of the opposition. He formerly was employed in the "Katy" shops there. In Topeka, union labor has a candidate for mayor. He has attended all the meetings of the City Club and opposed the manager form as autocratic.

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Heald, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Who is the swiftest Morse telegrapher? P. B. McC.

A. The San Francisco Telegraph Tournament in August, 1915, is probably the latest contest. In this, T. S. Brickhouse was the winner in the championship class and now holds the Carnegie Diamond Medal. He sent 510 words spelled out in 11 minutes and 18 seconds, making an average of nearly 45 words per minute.

Q. Please give a biography of Schickelraut, the actor? J. F. J.

A. Joseph Schickelraut is 26 years old. He is a Rumanian and the son of Rudolph, a famous old actor. Schickelraut has been on the stage for years and is said to have played in every capital in Europe and in perhaps every play ever produced in the leading theaters. He also made some pictures abroad. He has made a success in New York in "Lilium."

Q. Which are best for automobile racing, small wheels or large ones, disc wheels or wire wheels? C. H.

A. Small wire wheels are considered more suitable for racing.

Q. Does the Government pay a pension to ex-slaves? H. L. L.

A. The Government does not pay such pensions, although such representations have been made from time to time by individuals.

Q. Who was known as the "father of professional prize fighting"? R. C. M.

A. Although fighting with fists has probably been practiced in England for many centuries prior to the advent of James Figg, historians generally agree in giving him this honor.

Q. When a couple leaves the street car, should the woman go first? J. P.

A. The man should precede the woman to assist her down the car steps.

Q. What is the weight of the largest horse in the world? L. O.

A. The Bureau of Animal Husbandry says the largest horse in existence so far as they know is Big Jim. He weighs 3,100 pounds, and was shown at the Iowa State College Fair.

Q. In what year did Congress impose a tariff on wire nails and how much was it? W. F. F.

A. The Tariff Act of 1890 provided for such a tariff. It amounts to 2 3/4 or 4 cents per pound, according to length and gauge of wire from which they were made.

Q. What is the origin of the term "Bill of Fare"? C. T.

A. It is said that the actor Henry of Braunschweig attracted general notice at a state dinner during a meeting of electors in Regensburg

A New Year's Value Talk--from A Store Where Value Is Not New!

Men, Methods and Clothing Stores differ—but we don't think there is a clothier in America who has not resolved to make more money in 1923 than he did in 1922.

We are to be included—but our method of gain is not.

First—to increase our business we must increase the number of our customers for we cannot sell 10 suits of underwear to a man who can only use 4—

We must have more men—and to secure more men we are going to give Appleton more value than has ever been common from a store carrying our type of merchandise.

That's all for today—and it's all true!

in 1489 by referring to a long list before a dish was ordered. In reply to an inquiry the elector spread the paper out and it was found to contain a list of dishes prepared for the occasion. The idea so pleased the assembly that each of them had it introduced into his household.

Q. What is a xybele? F. W.

A. This is the name of an ancient machine of war, in the form of a catapult.

Q. What is the origin of the expression stoutened bottle? A. L. H.

A. The expression stoutened bottle is used in reference to a stupid person or a figurehead. The term originated in the black or dark green bottles of Dr. Stoughton's bitters, which were shaped like a log cabin and used in the presidential campaign of 1840.

Q. What percentage of inventions patented money for their inventors? C. T. R.

A. Only about 1 per cent of the inventions patented are ever commercialized.

Q. When was the Mosque of St. Sophia built, and when did it become a Mohammedan temple? N. P. S.

A. It was built as a Christian Church by Justinian, 531, to eclipse the famous temple of Solomon. It was transformed into a Mohammedan mosque by Mohammed II, 1463.

New Leader Of Irish Is Real Tiger

London—"Tim" Healy, the Irish Free State's first governor general, is known by the same nickname as ex-Premier Clemenceau of France—"The Tiger."

It is a title "Tim" won by his ferocity in debate, during his long career as an "Irish home ruler," in parliament.

Stories are told without end of the verbal encounters in which he came off with first honors.

He never liked Joseph Chamberlain, who began his political life as a Liberal and later joined the Tories. In the English phrase, "he rattled." One night in the House of Commons, the Liberal leader being absent, and his followers, with nobody to keep them in order, rather noisy, Chamberlain remarked, "When the cat's away the mice will play."

"And the rats," added Healy.

During the Boer War, when bitter charges of stupidity were being made against the British generals in the field, a member of parliament asked how many horses had been sent to Africa. "And how many mules?" he continued, when the first question had been answered. "Yes, and how many asses?" interrupted "the tiger."

"I'd rather vote for the devil than for you!" shouted an elector during a speech "Tim" was making as a parliamentary candidate. "Right, stick by your pal!" rejoined Healy.

Often "Tim" was merely jocose, not vitriolic.

Once a debate was arranged between himself and Prof. "Tom" Keble. They "tossed" to decide which should start and Healy won. "The kettle having lost its spout," he began, and then plunged into his subject.

A politician who disliked the great "home rule" champion, John Dillon, asked Healy one day why the Irish elected him, time after time, to parliament. "Tim" was a friend of Dillon but the latter's heavy dignity and deeply melancholy look amused him. "They keep him," he explained, "for attending funerals."

Use Heat And Water To Open Road Of Glass

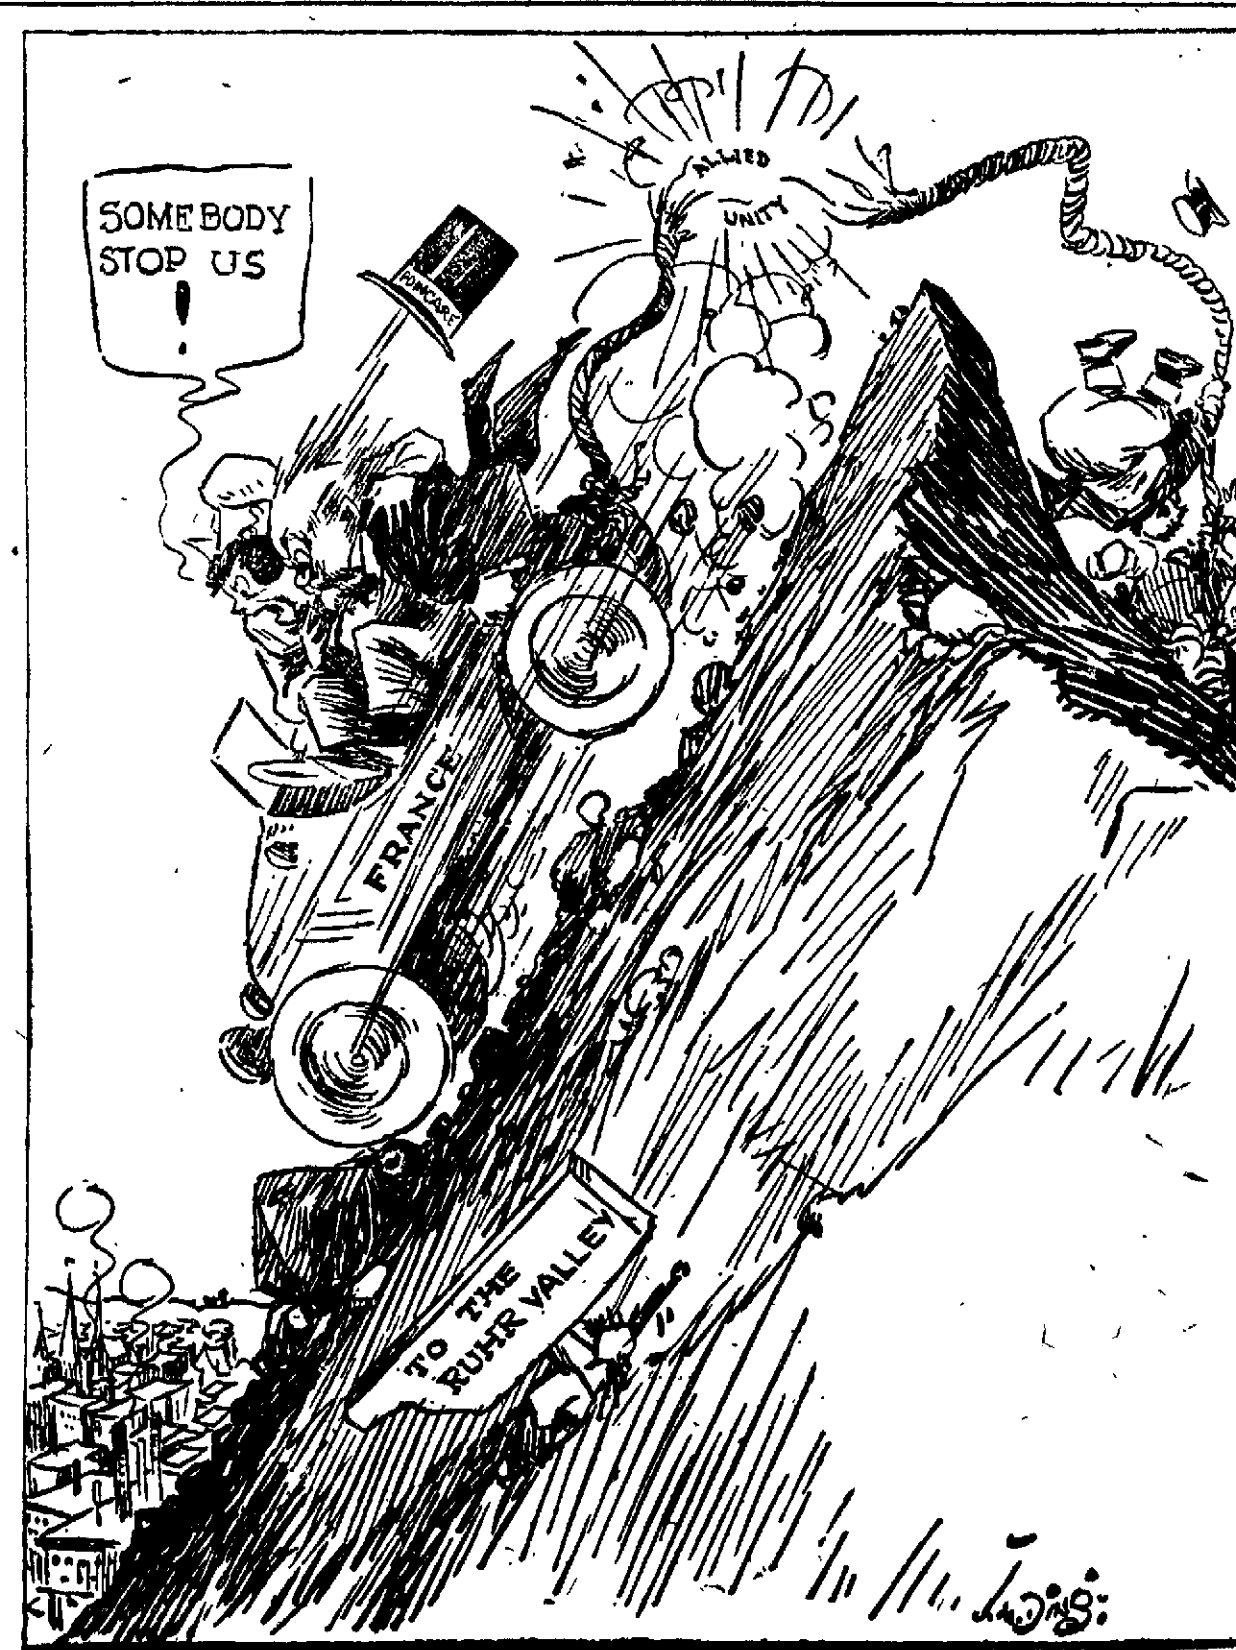

Of all the curious roads in creation, the strangest is the glass road running along the base of Obsidian cliff on the highway between Roaring mountain and Golden Gate, Wyo., in the Yellowstone National park, twelve miles south of Mammoth Hot Springs. When the route of this road was originally mapped out, the government engineers did not know that they would have to devise a novel method of cutting down part of a mountain of volcanic glass to provide the necessary path for the roadway, says George H. Doey, in St. Nicholas.

The federal road builders first tried out all kinds of giant blasting powders and heavy charges of dynamite. The engineers finally decided to test out the suggestion of one of the surveyors, who believed that the glass mountain could be disintegrated by heating it to a high temperature and then spraying it with water.

Great piles of dry logs were spread along the line of the highway and huge bonfires were ignited and kept burning for approximately fifty hours.

Then the road constructionists sprayed the sides of the glass cliff with ice cold mountain water pumped from the neighboring river. The mountain exploded in huge chunks.

FREE DELIVERY OF MAIL WILL START ABOUT FEBRUARY 1

Delay In Arrival Of House Number Plates Will Not Halt Service

Kaukauna—Free mail delivery in this city positively will start on or about Feb. 1. Word has been received from the postoffice department in Washington that the south side office will be discontinued on Jan. 31 and that all mail thereafter must be addressed to Kaukauna, Wis. No further action is necessary to begin the service and since it is not absolutely necessary to have house numbers or street names, there ought to be no delay in getting started.

Frank M. Charlesworth, Jr., has not yet received a reply to his inquiries to the company which has the order for the house plates. The plates were promised for shipment on several occasions but evidently the promises have not been carried out. Mr. Charlesworth stated, however, that if the numbers fail to arrive in time, mail delivery service can be instituted as the carriers are at the present time making the rounds and are taking a census of their routes and ought to be well acquainted with the names of their patrons. Lack of the numbers will make the work more difficult, nevertheless.

NO NEW POSTMASTER
Although no advice has been received regarding a postmaster for the new office, it is expected that Jacob Lang of the north side office, will assume charge, at least temporarily until a regular appointment is made. The fact that the north side office is the office of the two and is the regular Kaukauna office will make Mr. Lang more eligible to the position.

Three of the four men who stood highest in the civil service examination for mail carriers have been practically assured that their appointments will be confirmed. No decision has as yet been made regarding the fourth carrier. The men who are to receive the jobs are Alphonse Berens, Harry Treptow and Arthur Schuring.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The regular meeting of Kaukauna council, Knights of Columbus, was held Monday evening in K. C. hall. Regular business was transacted. It was decided to send one official team to the state K. of C. bowling tournament to be held next month at Manitowish. The Rev. Joseph Quella of Elmdale, former assistant priest in this city, attended the meeting.

Harold Derus was elected president of the Hiking club which was reorganized at a meeting of last year's members Monday evening. Milton Metz was elected vice president and Edward Ludke was elected secretary. The club consists of 14 members. Four candidates will be elected Saturday. One of the rules of the club is that all members must walk seven miles a week, not including their regular daily walks.

Members of Electric City chapter, Order of DeMolay, have been invited to attend an open installation of officers at the regular meeting of Odile Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at 7:30 Friday evening in Masonic hall. The following officers will be installed:

Mrs. Leona Hale, worthy matron; Leo G. Schumann, worthy patron; Mable Hamilton, associate matron; Alma Hoehne, conductress; Flora Seifert, associate conductress; Marcelle Thompson, secretary; Edna Weisenbach, treasurer; Carrie Engbott, chaplain; Gladys Weber, marshal; Elva Conway, organist; Nellie Killo, Adah; Jennie Hagman, Ruth; Helen Capp; Esther; Elizabeth Fredendall; Martha; Nell Conkey; Elsie Knox; warder; Edward Nicholson, sentinel.

KAUKAUNA WANTS BASEBALL LEAGUE OF EIGHT CLUBS

Electric City Magnates Say Fans Will Support Good Baseball

Kaukauna—Formation of an eight club baseball league and cooperation between the old Fox River valley league officials and those of the Wisconsin state league for the purpose of arranging terms for consolidation are the things apparently desired by Kaukauna league officials and fans. It is quite generally agreed here that two leagues cannot prosper and it is also conceded that a circuit of eight clubs would make one of the best and most compact leagues possible.

William Johnson, secretary of the Kaukauna club and one of the founders of the Fox River valley league, speaking for the officers of the club, took exception to the statement in Monday's Post-Crescent regarding Kaukauna's inability to draw crowds which would put the team on even terms with its neighbors. Mr. Johnson has records of the entire league since its formation and with the exception of last year, Kaukauna was among the foremost in the circuit when it came to attendance and finances.

The secretary submitted actual figures to show that a few years ago Kaukauna drew even Appleton approximately six to one. It is understood that statements in Monday's paper were made from a standpoint of Kaukauna's record during the last season, which Mr. Johnson considers unjust since several important games which had been scheduled to be played at Kaukauna were transferred because of the storm which wiped out the ball park early in the spring. When the park was repaired and the Electric City was hardly started, the break came and teams which would have been drawing crowds at home were withdrawn from the league.

BUSINESSMEN OF CITY WANT ROTARY

Kaukauna—First steps toward organization of a Rotary club in Kaukauna were taken at a meeting of five prominent local men with Lee C. Rasey and J. P. Buck of Appleton at a meeting at the home of W. P. Ashe Tuesday evening. A committee of five men, with Mr. Ashe as chairman, has been working on the Rotary plan for some time and now it is expected that the work will be in readiness for organization about Feb. 1.

The local organization committee consist of Mr. Ashe, chairman, Yves Berens, Dr. G. J. Flanagan, R. N. Radach and Edward Hines. A long list of possible candidates for charter members in the new club was discussed but no action was taken. Mr. Buck and Mr. Rasey, who is a representative of the International Rotary, assisted in the preliminary meeting and laid out plans for the future progress toward organization.

New Station For Police In New City Hall

Kaukauna—The police department has been busy the last few days. By this afternoon it is fully established in its new quarters in the new municipal building opposite the little frame building which has served as station house and jail for many years. The new little office in the new station will be completely fitted up with new furniture with exception of the chief's roll top desk. Chief McCarty would not part with the desk so he is having it dressed up so that it may take its place along with the new things.

Adjacent to the office is a large room which will be used as a display room for the electrical department and as a rest room for the public. In the rear of the rest room and elevated a few feet, are the cells, one of them to lock up more persons than the present police force ever will be required to arrest. The old jail, by the way, contains three cells, one of them quite filled with confiscated stills and as a result uninhabitable. The chief, however, has never had to crowd his prisoners for lack of room.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO HOLD WINTER FAIR

New London—A Mid-winter fair is to be given by the Civic League Jan. 25 and 26 in Odd Fellow hall. The fund arrangements were made at the Monday evening meeting of the league. The proceeds of the fair will go to pay the indebtedness on the city hall park. The business meeting was only incidental to the program of the evening. Mrs. B. N. Calf gave an unusually interesting paper on "The Americanization of Edward Bok." A social hour followed.

CHURCH LIFTS DEBT BY NEW PAY PLAN

Large Deficit Is Paid In One Year At Hortonville Lutheran Church

Special to Post-Crescent.
Hortonville—The congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran church held its annual business meeting at the church Sunday afternoon. The following officers were elected: Trustee, Otto Kluge; treasurer, Emil Diestler; director of school board, F. C. Warning; financial secretary, Charles Radishut; janitor, G. A. Kubin.

The year 1922 was one of the most successful of the church since its founding. It was the first year that the envelope financing system was used, and the results show that it is a successful method. A year ago the church had debts to be paid, including $1,350 in notes, besides waiting orders. This year efforts made it possible to clear the church entirely of debts, and still have a good balance in the treasury.

The figures for the past year are: Receipts from envelopes, $3,254.22; jubilee collection, $267.42; contributions, $149.19; total, $3,670.83; balance in treasury, $264.24.

The church was built in 1897, which is 25 years ago. The Rev. G. E. Boettcher has been pastor since its founding.

TO HOLD DANCE
The second "hard time" dance of the year will be held at the opera house Thursday evening.

The public and parochial schools resumed their studies Monday after a two week's vacation.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says Glass of Salts Helps To Overcome Rheumatism Acid

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kind.

Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison. Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

Church Street, Malpas, Cheshire, England.
"For eleven years I suffered acute pain and sickness. I consulted several prominent doctors and each had a different opinion. At last I was put under X-Rays. I was suffering from gall stones. My doctors and the specialist at the Royal Infirmary, Chester, told me they were not porous and no medicine would move them, so there remained nothing but an operation. When my wife heard this she told me to get Dodd's Kidney Pills, as they had cured her of black jaundice and gall stones. It is now eleven years since my wife felt any symptoms of these troubles. I purchased a quantity of Dodd's Kidney Pills and took them. The last seven years ago and I have had no return of the trouble."

Ford

INTERESTING FACTS

106,327 Ford Cars and Trucks

Retailed in November

Approximately the same number scheduled for delivery this month

What Does This Mean?

This volume of deliveries to actual owners is entirely unprecedented for this time of the year—

It has taxed the manufacturing ability of the Ford plants working at full capacity—

It indicates a volume of business during the rapidly approaching months of "heavy demand" which will be far beyond the maximum production schedule which the Ford Motor Company has set—

And that means a Ford shortage even more acute than one which existed last Spring and Summer.

Dealers' stocks all over the country are low — there are no reserves to draw upon to meet the demands for delivery—

There is no way in which dealer reserves can be built up, as deliveries have been made to customers as fast as Cars could be manufactured since last April.

The only way you can protect your desire to obtain prompt delivery of a Ford even at this time is to place your order immediately.

This emphasizes more strongly than anything we could possibly say the necessity of your making prompt arrangements with a Ford Dealer for the listing of your order, particularly if you are contemplating the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer.

We believe you are entitled to know these facts as they actually exist.

GRAU'S MILWAUKEE JOB IS AT STAKE

Appleton People Are Watching
Fight Over Commercial
Executive

Appleton people are following Milwaukee newspapers with interest to see how the fight ends which aims to unseat Phil Grau, the man to whom much of the credit is due for launching Appleton Chamber of Commerce three years ago.

Mr. Grau is managing director of Milwaukee Association of Commerce and his supporters desire to elect him president of that body as well as holding his present post. The association has divided itself into a Grau camp and an anti-Grau camp and a merry fight is being waged.

The issue has been raised as to whether the policy of building the city on boom and enthusiasm, said to be Grau's methods, or on a foundation of steady growth should prevail. One newspaper is opposing him because of what it terms his "hip, hip, hurrah" tactics.

Mr. Grau is said by Secretary Hugh G. Corbett of Appleton Chamber of Commerce to be responsible to a great extent for the breaking down of the attitude that Milwaukee is running the state, and for the cooperation that is extended other cities.

The Milwaukee executive is the man who spoke at the banquet here at which the chamber of commerce was organized and made an impression that still holds for the enthusiasm which he created.

In Backing Appeal To Harding

Hearty indorsement has been given by the Elk lodge here of the resolution submitted to President Harding by the national Elk order to call an international conference to combat the "dope" peril, according to Daniel P. Steinberg, exalted ruler.

A message transmitted by the Appleton lodge promises cooperation in a campaign to stamp out the use of habit forming drugs.

There is no need for action against drugs here the Elks find, because the city is practically free from dope fiends. It is believed there are a few isolated cases, but there is no trafficking of morphine, cocaine, opium or such drugs here, so far as is known.

It is the plan of 1,400 Elk lodges in the country to have the United States use every available secret service man in a nationwide cleanup to stamp out the traffic, which is said to be widespread in some sections and spreading.

CHURCH WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Financial and secretarial reports will be presented to members of the First Congregational church at the first section of the annual meeting at 7:30 Thursday evening in the church. The budget for the year also will be adopted and the membership roll revised.

It is customary to devote two evenings to transaction of the yearly business of the church, confining the first to business only and the second, on Thursday, Jan. 18, to social enjoyment as well. Unique presentation of reports following serving of a basket supper will be a feature of the latter gathering.

FURS AND MYSTERY

By A. CARSTENSEN

Appleton's Exclusive Furrier

The musk ox is another of the fur-bearing animals rapidly going the way of the American bison. Because its haunts are the secluded, rocky districts of the far North is the only reason it is not more nearly extinct. As it is, only small herds of about twenty animals are to be seen now.

But few of these skins are collected annually and those reaching the fur markets find ready sale.

The musk ox is a heavily built animal, about three feet in height and having large, peculiar shaped horns. The color of the male is dark brown, while that of the female is so much darker as to be almost black; the entire body is covered with long hair, the under-fur being soft and grey in color. When made up it makes a very attractive garment.

The wild cat is another American fur-bearer which is steadily decreasing in numbers because of the activities of hunters and trappers who wish to exterminate the animal as well as secure its pelt.

In form and color the wild cat closely resembles the Canadian lynx. After being dyed it makes an excellent imitation of lynx in its natural state. Its color is a greyish hue with dark brown or black spots on its back, sides and limbs, with an irregular dark line here and there.

Handsomeness as it is, the fur of the wild cat is rarely used in the making of ladies' fur apparel and it is not likely to become very popular for any use except the making of small robes and rugs.

Unless protective measures are taken soon, however, these animals and others of more general use will become entirely extinct in a few years. The better skins are so scarce even now that unless you choose your furrier with the utmost caution, you are likely to find you have paid a genuine price for an imitation fur.

Beware of the Wolf in Sheep's Clothing.

2 APPLETON MEN COLLEGE DEBATERS

Karl Trever And Joseph Heinzkill Among Those On New Teams

Two Appleton high school graduates have been chosen for the inter-collegiate debate team of Lawrence college. They are Karl Trever and Joseph Heinzkill. Mr. Trever has been on several debate teams before and has won honors as an orator, while Mr. Heinzkill is a freshman at the college and one of the few in the first year class to make the teams.

The two teams will have ten men this year in order to give training to those who will return next year even though they do not have a chance to take part in all the debates this year. The others who were chosen to represent the college are Dan Hart of Neenah; Edmund Tink of Merrill; and Karl Windeshelm of Kenosha; all of last year's teams; and Paul Ungrodt, Superior; George Skewes, Racine; George Christensen, Oshkosh; Willard Henoch, Milwaukee and William Nusse, Sheboygan.

Debate meetings are being held several times a week. Albert Franke of Appleton, former Lawrence debater and orator, who is now in the department of public speaking at Lawrence, will assist in coaching the debate work.

QUESTION RIGHT TO HIRE COUNTY AGENT

Agricultural Committee Asks
Lonsdorf For Extent Of Authority

Appointment of a county agricultural agent seems to be delayed by a technical impediment. The agricultural committee of the county board has been handling the matter of engaging a county agent, but although that committee has received several applications, the committee is partially in doubt as to its legal authority to appoint an agent.

Chairman D. J. Ryan of the county board, who is ex-officio member of this committee, questioned whether the committee was invested with this authority by the county board.

John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, has been asked to look into the matter. If there is a legal impediment, it is possible that no appointment will be made until the next meeting of the board, which is subject to call by the chairman.

Students Only Ones Who Buy Second Hand Books

Second hand books are among the things not demanded by Appleton persons, it would seem from reports made by local dealers in second hand articles. The local second hand stores do not handle books except as a few are secured with a number of other articles taken from a home by the dealers.

It is probable that even though the dealers did handle old books they would be hard to sell as very few calls for them are received.

Conkey book store and the college bookroom are practically the only places where there is a rapid turnover of second hand books and that is only for textbooks used in the public schools and the college. A great number of such books is sold at the Conkey store in the fall when the schools open; in fact about half of the books sold are second hand.

The college bookroom secures as many second hand books as possible for many of the students prefer using such for the semester or the year, returning them when of no further use.

The Clay I Use

White Refined super-clay
By Edna Wallace Hopper

Some think that facial clays are new. Not so. Beauties of all ages have employed them. Most of the famous belles of history used complexion clays.

But, up to 20 years ago, few women fostered and preserved their beauty. Now millions do, and clay is a prime essential.

What I owe clay
About 1900, French beauty experts taught me the use of clay. Now, at a grandmother's age, I look like a girl of 19. On the stage and in society I still play young girls' parts. And most girls may well envy my complexion.

I am telling my methods to all women as a duty to my kind. I have arranged to supply them the helps I use. And one is a perfect facial clay.

No crude clay
Ordinary natural clays are useless. The great results come from certain mineral-laden clays, and they are rare indeed.

Even right clays differ vastly. Only by countless tests and analysis has science found the best.

The first clays were crude and muddy. The modern clay is white, refined and clean. It is snowy, fragrant, dainty, and it doesn't stain.

Old-time clays relied on the earth alone. Now science has added certain factors which bring multiplied results.

ADAPT. NEA SERVICE

"Would you be willing, sir, to earn life and liberty—for yourself, your son, and the other Spaniards who are on board?"

"To earn it?" said Don Diego, and the watchful blue eyes did not miss the quiver that ran through him. "To earn it, do you say? Why, if the service you would propose is one that cannot hurt my honor..."

"Could I be guilty of that?" protested the Captain. "I realize that even a pirate has his honor. And forthwith he propounded his offer."

"The only man among us schooled in the art of navigation is favored, delirious, in fact as a result of certain ill-treatment he received ashore before we carried him away with us. Of the higher mysteries of seamanship and the art of finding a way over the trackless wastes of ocean, we know nothing. We desire to make for the Dutch settlement of Curacao as straight as possible. Will you pledge me your honor, if I release you upon parole, that you will navigate us thither? If so, we will release you and your surviving men upon arrival there."

Don Diego bowed his head upon his breast.

"I accept," he said.

CHAPTER XI
Filial Piety

By virtue of the pledge he had given, Don Diego de Espinosa enjoyed the freedom of the ship that had been his, and the navigation which he had undertaken was left entirely in his hands.

"If this wind holds," he told them, "we should reach Curacao inside three days."

For three days the wind held, in deed it freshened a little on the second, and yet when the third night descended upon them they had still made no landfall. Captain Blood un- easily mentioned it to Don Diego.

"It will be for tomorrow morning," he was answered with calm conviction.

Captain Blood passed on, content, and went to visit Jerry Pitt, his patient, to whose condition Don Diego owed his chance of life. To induce him Captain Blood consented, and he should take the air on deck, and so, as the last of daylight was fading from the sky, Jeremy Pitt came forth upon the Captain's arm. With the seaman's instinct his eyes wandered to the darkening vault of heaven, spangled already with a myriad golden points of light. Awhile he scanned it idly, vacantly; and then, his attention became sharply fixed. He looked around and up at Captain Blood, who stood beside him.

"D'ye know anything of astronomy, Peter?" quoth he.

"Astronomy is at? Faith, now, I couldn't tell the Belt of Orion from the Girdle of Venus."

"You told me—didn't you?"—that we came west of the archipelago between Tobago and Grenada, steering for Curacao. If that were our present course, we should have the North Star abeam, out yonder."

On the instant Mr. Blood shed his laziness. He stiffened with apprehension, and was about to speak when a shaft of light clove the gloom above their heads, coming from the door of the poop cabin which had just been opened. Don Diego was approaching. Captain Blood's fingers pressed Jerry's shoulder with significance.

"Will ye settle a slight dispute for us, Don Diego?" said he lightly. "We are arguing, Mr. Pitt and I, as to which is the North Star."

"So?" The Spaniard's tone was easy. "But you tell me Mr. Pitt he is your navigator?"

"For lack of a better," laughed the Captain, good-humoredly contemptuous. "Now I am ready to wager him a hundred pieces of eight that that is the North Star." And he flung out an arm toward a point of light in the heavens straight abeam.

Afterward told Pitt that had Don Diego confirmed him, he would have run him through upon that instant. Far from that, however, the Spaniard freely expressed his scorn.

"You have the assurance that is of ignorance, Don Diego; and you lose. The North Star is this one," and he indicated it.

"In that case, Don Diego, will you tell me, since Curacao is our destination, why our course is what it is?" Again there was no faintest hesitation on Don Diego's part. "You have reason to ask," said he, and laughed. "I have been careless—oh of a carelessness very culpable, I neglected observation. And today I find when at last I take out the quadrant that we do come by a half degree too much south, so that Curacao is now almost due north. That is what causes the delay. But we will be there tomorrow."

The explanation, so completely satisfactory, and so readily and candidly forthcoming, left no room for further doubt that Don Diego should have been false to his parole.

Coming on deck before the sun was up, Captain Blood saw land ahead, as the Spaniard had promised them last night. Some ten miles ahead it lay. Staring at it, he frowned. He had not conceived that Curacao was of such considerable dimensions.

Beating out seaward, against the gentle landward breeze he beheld a great ship on their starboard bow, that he conceived to be some three or four miles off, and—as well as he could judge her at that distance—of a tonnage equal if not superior to their own. Even as he watched her she altered her course, and coming about came heading toward them, closehauled.

"There," said a soft voice behind him in liquid Spanish, "is the Promised Land, Don Pedro."

It was something in that voice, a muffled note of exaltation, that awoke suspicion in him, and made whole the half-doubt he had been entertaining.

"You find an odd satisfaction in the sight of it—all things considered," said Mr. Blood.

"Of course," The Spaniard observed that they were unsteady. "The satisfaction of a mariner."

"Or of a traitor—which?" Blood asked him quietly. And as the Spaniard fell back before him with suddenly altered countenance that confirmed his every suspicion, he flung an arm out in the direction of the distant shore. "What land is that?" he demanded. "Will you have the effrontery to tell me that is the coast of Curacao?"

He advanced upon Don Diego suddenly, and Don Diego, step by step, fell back. "Shall I tell you what land it is? Shall I?" His fierce assumption of knowledge seemed to dazzle the Spaniard.

"Ah, perro español! You know too much," he said under his breath, and sprang for the Captain's throat. Tight-locked in each other's arms, they swayed a moment, then together went down upon the deck, the Spaniard's feet jerked from under him by the right leg of Captain Blood.

"Will I say a prayer for your dirty snow?" Captain Blood was furiously mocking him.

But the Spaniard, though defeated, now beyond hope for himself, forced his lips to smile, and gave back mockery for mockery.

"Who will pray for your soul, I wonder, when that galleon comes to the board and board with you?"

"That galleon!" echoed Captain Blood with sudden and awful realization that already it was too late to avoid the consequences of Don Diego's betrayal of them.

"That galleon," Don Diego repeated, and added with deepening sneer, "Do you know what ship it is? I will tell you. It is the Encarnacion, the flagship of Don Miguel de Espinosa, the Lord Admiral of Castile, and Don Miguel is my brother."

"Wait," Captain Blood imperiously commanded, and turning on his heel, he went aside to the rail. As he stood there deep in thought, he was joined by Hagthorpe, Wolverstone and Ogle the gunner.

Ogle, with a bent for sarcasm, interposed a suggestion bitterly.

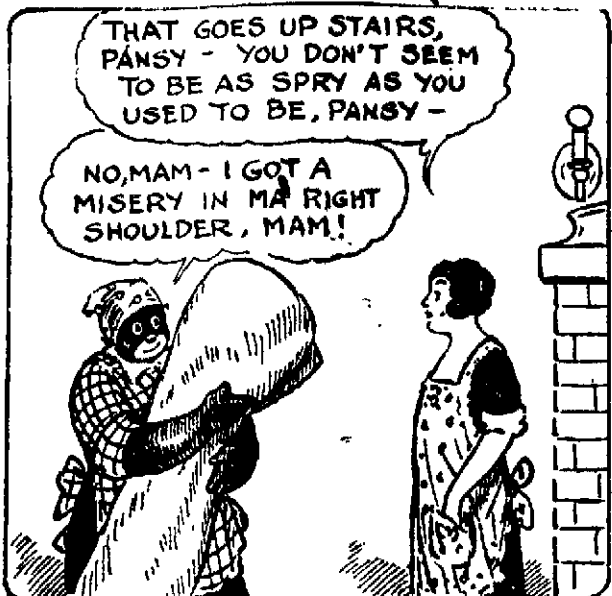

"We might send Don Diego de Espinosa in a boat manned by his Spaniards to assure his brother the Admiral that we are all royal subjects of his Majesty."

The Captain swung around. "Bodad! ye've said it. He doesn't fear death, this damned pirate; but his son may take a different view. Filial piety's mighty strong in Spain." He swung on his heel abruptly, and strode back to the knot of men about his prisoner. "Here," he shouted to them, "Bring him below."

In the ward-room the three stern chasers were in position, loaded their muzzles thrashing through the open ports, precisely as the Spanish gunners had left them. "Here, Ogle, is work for you," said Blood, and as the burly gunner came thrusting forward through the little throng of gaping men, Blood pointed to the middle chaser. "Have that gun hauled back," he ordered. When this was done, Blood beckoned those who held Don Diego.

Chapter 10 — A Lawyer or a Lover?
By Zoe Beckley

With his wife's words ringing in his ears, John Barrett taxied to town and ascended to the skyscraper office of Rex Warren, attorney-at-law. Warren was a man who instinctively thought of as attorney-at-law rather than plain lawyer. He never permitted emotion to express itself in word, look or manner. When he felt strongly about something, which was often, he said nothing but waited until he could do something. Then he did it. Warren and Barrett had been "Jack" and "Bex" through the years of their after-college intimacy. But now, as Barrett was ushered into the lawyer's office the atmosphere chilled.

"Warren—you will want to be my wife's attorney in our divorce action," Barrett's embarrassment was evident. Warren shot him a keen glance, but showed no other surprise.

"Only if your wife asks me, Barrett."

"She will—after I've cleared the ground for it. There's a lot of law to be done. Under our beneficent laws, if two people decently want to part, that's not enough. One of the two must make a scoundrel of himself."

"And you want me, I take it," said Warren, "to help you make a scoundrel of yourself. You want me to connive at collusion."

"I want you to help—Anita."

"Anita hasn't asked me."

"Someone has to start this thing, and it's got to be me," said Barrett harshly. "We've talked it over, never fear. Anita just told me she wouldn't change things if she could. She'd done. So am I. I should think you'd want to make it as little distressing for her as possible."

Warren rose.

"Will you explain—the emphasis on the 'you'?"

The two were standing close, their eyes level and engaged.

"Certainly," said Barrett distinctly. "I mean that you will not grieve to see Anita free of me."

"As an expression of what I think of you, that's correct."

"And equally correct," Barrett gave a short, mirthless laugh, "of what you feel for her. We might as well face things."

The lawyer held his look steadily as if measuring blows. Then with characteristic self-control, turned away.

"If Mrs. Barrett should ask me to act for her," he said, seating himself at the desk, "I shall do so. As for what you say—whether true or false—I shall do all I can to hinder this divorce."

"Fair enough, perhaps," snapped Barrett, and the door closed sharply behind him.

GOOD MANNERS

In taking a taxicab, the woman enters first, assisted by her escort, and takes the furthest seat, whether right or left.

In alighting, the man leads the way and helps the woman to reach the ground safely.

If the taxicab has double seats, the man takes his place with his back to the driver, unless he is an old friend of the woman he is accompanying.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

Mexican marriages usually take place in the morning, sometimes before daylight.

Guests always receive two invitations, one from the bride's family, one from the bridegroom's. The simplest ceremony lasts two hours, during which the bride's veil is pinned to the bridegroom's shoulder.

The bride always wears white, trimmed with orange blossoms.

COLLARS

The berth has by no means concluded its run. On spring frocks we find a foot wide, composed of very fine pleating—georgette, chiffon or fine net.

DR. MADSON ON PROGRAM OF STATE VETERINARIANS

The eighth annual meeting of Wisconsin Veterinary Medical association will be held at Agricultural hall Madison, Jan. 21, 22 and 23. The program will be a short course given co-operatively by the veterinary science department of Wisconsin college of agriculture and the state association. Lectures will be delivered by prominent speakers and nearly 50 Badger veterinarians will lead the discussions, among them Dr. William Madison of Appleton and Dr. B. Royer of Shawano.

DR. PEABODY IN EAST FOR VISIT AND CONFERENCES

Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of the First Congregational church, is in New York for a stay of several days during which he will visit two of his sons who are in college in the east. He also will visit several of the large churches.

The pastor will attend a conference in Chicago on Jan. 16 of the commission for social service of the Congregational denomination. He is a member of the commission. Dr. Peabody will return to Appleton by Jan. 18, when the annual meeting of the church occurs.

The pulpit will be occupied during his absence by the Rev. C. Willard Cross, associate pastor.

Lee C. Rasey, principal of Appleton high school was in Racine on business Wednesday. He addressed the Racine Rotary club at noon.

Adventures Of The Twins

Queen's Car Is Stolen

The next thing the Fairy Queen lost was her automobile.

It has been given to her by the Green Wizard who was an old, old friend of the family.

It wasn't an automobile like you or I have, my dears, or like the neighbors across the street have.

No, it was a very unusual automobile, and it had taken the good old wizard 11 years to make it magical enough to present to the Fairy Queen.

Yes, it was magical. So very magical that it didn't need anyone to run it at all and it could think for itself. Anyone who owned it could make it do anything he wished by just wishing!

But there was one thing to remember. This wonderful automobile would serve only one master at a time and the last person to turn the shiny handle just between the jigsawcrank and the thingamabob on the whirlingig was the only person whose wishes this wonderful machine would obey.

I suppose now that I have told you everything you'd be writing to the Green Wizard and ordering one of these wonderful cars. Because without a doubt, it's much easier than having to pull handles this way and that and push things with your feet and turn a big wheel and watch the road every second.

All you'd have to say would be: "Magic auto, do not dally."

I wish to visit my Aunt Sally."

And whisk! You'd be there! Or: "Magic auto, please to stop."

And let me out at the butcher shop."

And there you'd be.

Well, that's the kind of car somebody stole from the Fairy Queen and she sent for the Twins at once to help hunt.

ON THE SCREEN

JACKIE COOGAN AGAIN SCORES A BULLSEYE

In "Trouble," which opened at the Elite Theatre yesterday for a run of 8 days, Jackie Coogan again scores a bullseye.

If anything, the little star is better in this than he was in the memorable Chaplin film, because in the latter case it was hard to determine just how much of his work was Coogan and how much Chaplin. In this latest production, released under the First National trademark, there is no cause for doubt. It is all Coogan and the baby artist proves his right to a place among the truly great stars of the screen.

To see Jackie as a witness in a police court, when he describes a fight, between his foster father and a policeman, is to see the perfection of pantomime. The audience sees the fight in their regular course of the picture, but even if it hadn't the gestures and expressions of the diminutive witness would visualize the struggle. He goes through all the motions, even to describing how he felled his bullying parent with a flower pot and helped the policeman who had been temporarily worsted in the fight, to put the handcuffs on the offender.

There is more story to "Trouble" than any of the plays in which Jackie has appeared, even including "The Kid."

THE GOOD PROVIDER

Vera Gordon, who won enthusiastic plaudits for her performance of the mother in "Humoresque" and who has another mother role in "The Good Provider," is a mother in real life. Miss Gordon plays the part of Mama Rinswanger in "The Good Provider," that will be shown at Fischer's Appleton Theatre beginning today.

I got so bad I was afraid I would have to leave my three little children. But since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy two years ago I have been entirely well; no constipation or other trouble." GRIND AXE AT HIGH SCHOOL FOR OSHKOSH GAME FRIDAY

WILL FACE SAME TEAM THAT ROUTED LOCALS IN TOURNNEY

Blue And Orange Has Neighborly Grudge Because Of 1921 Whipping

The ancient "rivalry axe" is being ground this week at the Appleton high school to the finest point so that it will be sharp and sharp when Oshkosh arrives Friday night to play Denney's quintet in the first game of the Blue and Orange before the home fans.

Basketball followers haven't forgotten at all what Oshkosh did to Appleton in the tournament in Oshkosh last year. It was Oshkosh that put the kibosh on Appleton in the opening game of the tournament. Before this in a game played in Appleton Oshkosh was beaten easily but the fast come back of the Sawdust City cagers put a damper on Appleton's aspirations.

OSHKOSH KEPT UP. Coach Abrahamson's team, too, will carry with it a grudge. The quintet is composed of exactly the same players that engaged Appleton last year and each of the players took part in the last football game. Appleton's overwhelming victory, the worst defeat handed to the Sawdust gridders in the fall of 1922 isn't easily forgotten.

The game will be Oshkosh's first Fox River High School Athletic conference affair. However, it will be the third game this season for the Oshkoshers. The Sawdust City team virtually ran away with East DePere in its opener and in the following contest overhauled Columbus. These two games cannot be regarded as ordinary preliminaries. Columbus, especially, is a strong basketball center and has figured in several Milwaukee tournaments.

DENNEY SEEKS IMPROVEMENT. Although the standpoint of the ordinary fan, the showing at West Green Bay by the Blue and Orange was satisfactory, the work in the gymnasium at the high school this week indicates that Coach Denney is seeking many improvements in the work of his caging axes. Monday was devoted to practice. Tuesday afternoon and evening scrimmages were held. Denney used a series of new combinations in an effort to meet the attack of Abrahamson's men.

While the high school showed excellent defensive work at Green Bay it lacked necessary speed for offensive attacks. Speed and increased offensive tactics will be sought throughout the week.

FRESHMEN TO PLAY. Oshkosh will arrive here Friday afternoon and the game will start early in the evening in the armory with freshmen units from both schools in a curtain raising game.

While Denney is experimenting with new combinations it is rather difficult to say definitely who will start out for Appleton. Oshkosh will have with it a lineup that will not be at all new to the Appleton fans. Reed and Hotchkiss will play the forward positions. Novotny, one of the stars in the Appleton football game, will play center. Barsch and Sturczinski will start as guards. Adams is another man that will bear watching. It is most likely that this versatile player will be sent in in the middle of the game to strengthen any position needing help.

NEENAH JOINS FACTORY WHEEL IN "Y" GYMNASIUM

The Kimberly-Clark basketballers of Neenah will make their debut in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Basketball league Wednesday night in the "Y" gymnasium when they will play the Badger Furnace Co. team. The Neenah players will replace the Y. M. C. A. Dormitory five who were found too weak for the interlake teams.

Two other games are on tap for the evening. The opener will be between the Badger Furnace and the Y. M. C. A. cagers, the schedule calling for two games by the Furnace men for this week. Interlake and the Kimberly-

ZWICK TO BOX AT FONDY ON JAN. 17

Fond du Lac—Unless the unexpected happens, Jack Zwick the Kaukauna knockout wizard and Wisconsin welterweight champion, will meet Jimmy Nichols of Chicago in the Armory arena on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 17. Both Zwick's and Nichols' signatures have been secured by Promoter Jack Brunkhorst to contrasts for their appearance here.

The semi-windup of eight rounds at 133 pounds will feature Jack Lange of Oshkosh and Jimmy Young of Chicago. Lange's ability is well known in these parts and he recently trounced Eddie Mozart of St. Paul in a bout staged at Oshkosh.

Johnny Herzog, another scrappy and aggressive little Oshkosh pug, will appear on the first card with Walter Herneke of Chicago in a six round battle at 115 pounds. The preliminary will go four rounds and the principals will be picked within a day or two.

JIMMY SMITH TO BE IN APPLETON FEB. 12

Monday, Feb. 12 will be a banner day of the Elks eleventh annual bowling tournament which will be held in the Appleton clubhouse from Jan. 27 to March 11. Feb. 12 is the date when Jimmy Smith, Wisconsin's greatest bowler and former world champion, is to smash the wood for honors with some 3,000 other interested folks who are expected to take part in the tournament.

Smith is a member of the Milwaukee lodge and will bowl on one of the teams from the Cream City. Smith's coming here was the result of the efforts of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the tournament. Milwaukee will be here with a record breaking attendance, according to the latest word from Jay Halseth who is forming an eight team league to invade the Paper City. This will be one of the many units coming from Milwaukee.

The latest word from Kenosha—a letter by O. N. Yule—assures the Appleton committee that the Lake Shore City will be here with 25 teams or more. Kenosha was represented by 29 quintets in the 1922 gathering at Appleton.

SCHAEFER INCREASES LEAD IN MATCH WITH CONTI

Chicago—Young Jake Schaefer of San Francisco defeated Roger Conti champion of France, Tuesday night in the second block of their 1,500 point match, 500-313. The winner will challenge Willie Hoppe for the world's championship.

Schaefer won out in thirteen innings with an unfinished run of 160. He is now leading 1,000 to 650. The third and final block will be played Wednesday night.

Clark shooters of this city will play Wednesday night's tilts will be the third contests for the quintets. The Neenah players will assume the Y. M. C. A. Dormitory standing.

Grade Schools Plan Intercity Basketball Tournament Saturday

Parochial Schools Invited To Enter League—To Play In "Y" And High Gyms

Appleton grade school children will have a basketball tournament of their own.

Plans calling for a 12-team league, composed of a team from each of the public schools and from the five parochial institutions in the city are being completed this week and playing is expected to start Saturday.

TO BRING KIDS TOGETHER. Although no official name has been selected for the caging wheel, it probably will be known as the Appleton Grade School Basketball league. Its primary purpose is about the same as the baseball league of last year which was intended to bring about a closer relationship of children of the city through sport.

Plans for the intercity games were taken up at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. at which representatives from all grade schools were present, including Coach A. C. Denney of the Appleton high school and Arthur Jensen, director of athletics at the Y. M. C. A. Both Mr. Jensen and Mr. Denney will lead the school in conducting the tournament. The games will be played at the "Y" and high school gymnasium. General arrangements will be under the direction of Mr. Jensen.

ARRANGE SCL. DULE. A schedule is being arranged. Playing is expected to start at 1 o'clock Saturday with six teams in each of the gymnasiums. Just what teams will play is not certain. Invitations have been issued to St. Joseph, St. Mary, Sacred Heart, St. Paul and Zion schools to enter teams. In the event one of the schools will not enter other schools will enter two teams if material will permit.

The public schools which are to take part in the tournament will be First ward, Lincoln, Columbus, Franklin, Third ward, Fourth ward, and Fifth ward.

NEW PENN COACH ASKS REPORTERS FOR IDEAS

Philadelphia, Pa.—Coach Lou Young, Penn's 1923 grid instructor, intends to adopt an innovation next fall in an effort to get every possible new idea which may help the Red and Blue footballers.

"I believe," said Young, "that a newspaper man who watches the practice every afternoon, knows the players personally, and gets all the gossip of the alumni and students, can be of the greatest help to a coach, and I plan from time to time to call on them and ask them if they see anything wrong with the team and its players. This might be a radical departure from time honored custom, but the men that keep the public posted should have something to say."

"It is no longer a question of 'I, out of we.' Cooperation and harmony will put Penn back to the plane of a decade or so ago, when our eleven was the most feared in the country."

Hortonville Merchants Swamp Interlake Cagers

Visitors Defeat Pulpmakers By 30 To 8 Score In Game In Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Tuesday Night

Hortonville Merchants invaded Appleton Tuesday night and are back home Wednesday with another basketball scalp in their belt.

Sweeping the Interlake five off their feet, the Merchants showered their opponents with a rain of baskets in the game in the Y. M. C. A. gym. When the smoke cleared away the Appleton pulpmakers were on the short end of a 30 to 8 score.

Rosenfelt, playing the pivot position, was the shooting star, setting 12 points for the invaders. Olk was the next highest with ten points. Fast work of the visitors was the feature of the game.

Day's two baskets were the only markers obtained by Interlake in the first half while the Hortonville players made 14 points.

Overcoming a one game lead, the Arcades went into a tie with Hoppy's Wieners for first place in the Appleton City Bowling league Tuesday night as the result of its three game victory over the F. O. E. 574 quintet, cellar champs, in the contest rolled on the Arcade floors.

Neither the Arcades or the F. O. E.'s did anything sensational, however, the Arcade wood smashers managed to keep ahead.

STAR WITH 2,664. Hoppy's Wieners, formerly Arcades No. 1, took two games from the Rainbow Gardens who went down a notch from the tie at third place with the Elks Imperials. Hoppy's stars were highest for the evening with a mark of 2,664. Herman Strutz, cleanup man for the Wieners, was high man for the 40 ten pin knights in the league with the mark of 570. The Rainbow Gardens and the Wieners shot on the Eagle floors.

Elks Imperials, shooting in their own back yard, whittled two out of three from the Olympics.

Hoffman's Construction Co. annexed a two game victory from the Elks 337 in the battle of pins on the Olympic alleys.

The city leagues will pass the half way mark next week. The schedule calls for 33 more games and 30 have been rolled.

VALLEY HIGHS HOLD CONFAB IN OSHKOSH

Football Schedule For Next Year Is Before School Mentors

Representatives from Appleton, two Green Bay high schools, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Manitowish and Oshkosh, members of the Fox River Valley High School Athletic conference, are holding a pow-wow at Oshkosh Wednesday.

Although the gridiron is buried under a blanket of snow and football fans will be on "vacation" for months to come, the platoon game is one of the principal topics of the parlay. A schedule for the 1923 season is to be considered.

Leon C. High, manager of athletic for the Blue and Orange, left for Oshkosh Wednesday afternoon.

First Annual Skating Tournament Entry List Closed At Noon Today

Large Number Of Ice Enthusiasts Are Entered In Classic—First Elimination Contest To Be Held On Sunday

Skaters, your last chance to get in to the first annual ice skating tournament in Appleton, ended at noon today. No entries for the races, the first of which will be held next Sunday, were received after 12 o'clock. Names of the skaters and the events they will enter will be printed Friday.

It is impossible to state at this time the number of skaters who have entered the contests but it is a goodly number. A majority of the entrants are from the Third ward where there has been a most lively interest in the ice classic. The skaters in that section appreciate the effort that is being made to give them a chance to show what they can do on the ice.

There probably will be a lot of skaters in Appleton who will regret they did not enter the races. The program is arranged to give every skater a fair chance at the city championship honors.

The racing courses will be marked out Saturday and every thing will be put in readiness for the contests. Competent officials will be on hand to see that everything is run off smoothly.

Final announcements concerning the races will be published the remainder of the week. In the meantime the entrants are urged to get in as much practice as they can for the greatest ice carnival ever held in this city.

JIMMY BLOUIN TRAMPLES OVER GOTHAM BOWLER

Chicago—Jimmy Blouin of Chicago, world's bowling champion, cut loose with a bombardment on the maples in the second block of his forty game match with Joe Falcario of New York Thursday night that gave him a 2,403 total and 210 2-10 average for the ten games.

Blouin, who staged one of the most sensational exhibitions ever given in championship bowling, now has a total of 4,510 pins to Falcario's 4,067. Falcario knocked over 1,910 pins in Tuesday's ten game block for an average of 197. Blouin, who had gained a margin of but eleven pins in Monday's games won nine out of ten games on Tuesday. The third block will be played on Wednesday and the final ten game on Thursday.

Falcario won six of the ten game Monday night, though Blouin outpointed him on total numbers for the evening's play.

Willard Denies Tale Of Scandal

Former Champ Denies Dempsey Pulled A Siki In Battle At Toledo

New York—Jess Willard, twenty-four hours on Broadway, finds himself all snarled up in gossip concerning the Dempsey fight at Toledo. Jess had to put out a denial of a published story in which he was quoted as saying there was something of a Siki nature about his Waterloo.

"Never said anything of the kind," Jess told the gossips who squeezed into his stall at the hotel to catch the time of day with him. "It was a rough fight, but very respectable."

Willard expects to put on his old circus lights on Thursday afternoon and expose to the gaze of a select audience the most prodigious ponderosity that ever hit the resin.

He is as big as a tenement house, but has the appearance of fine health. It is his intention to show the experts, if they can be shown, by a little workout of boxing and physical jerks, that he is still an active guy despite his years.

Ray Archer, Willard's mouthpiece, said that if Jess does any business it will be done with Tex Rickard. This eliminates Tom O'Rourke and the Republic A. C. who were after the panorama spectacle of Willard in a fight with Dempsey or somebody else.

BULLSEYES of BASEBALL

NO. 3: GREATEST ROOKIE PITCHING I EVER SAW

I have seen a number of great pitchers work in creditable games in their first start as major leaguers. I have seen a great many more "diver" badly line out time out in the big show. The odds are always against the recruit.

Therefore it is a rather easy matter for me to pick out the greatest game I ever saw a recruit pitcher work in the majors.

That honor goes to Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox, who, in the spring of 1922, shut out the Detroit club without a hit. More remarkable yet, not a batsman reached first base.

A number of things tended to make this performance on the part of Robertson all the more remarkable.

In the first place, it was made against a team generally regarded as one of the hardest hitting aggregations in the history of the sport.

BASKET BALL QUIZ

by Referee

JUMPING FOR BALL

When the centers are jumping for the ball from the circle, may one of the players after the whistle has been blown, jump out of the circle and try to outguess his opponent by being in a position to receive the tap?

A player jumping from center has a perfect right to do so, provided he does not leave the circle until after the ball has been tapped.

POSITION

What must be the position of other players, when two players jump from center or elsewhere on a ball tossed by the referee?

There is no definite position for the other players on a tossed ball. They have a perfect right to assume any position that does not in any way interfere with the jumpers.

FACING BASKET

When players jump from center or elsewhere, is it necessary that they face their own baskets when so jumping?

MEZ TO DESCRIBE GERMAN SITUATION AT SUNDAY FORUM

Touton Journalist's Research Makes Him Popular Speaker On Conditions

The Peoples Forum speaker for Sunday evening, Dr. John Mez, will come to Appleton highly recommended for his original lecture on the relation of Europe and America at the present time. Dr. Mez received most of his education in Germany and has done a great deal of political and economic research work in Europe with some of its most renowned economists. He has fought autocracy and war for many years.

Dr. Mez has a sympathetic understanding of the German situation. He knows a great deal about conditions in Europe and he knows a great deal about them in America. He has been lecturing in this country for more than a year and everywhere he is well received. He has several series of lectures for college students besides those he gives for a more general audience.

DEATHS

HECKERT FUNERAL

The funeral of Herman Heckert, Sr. was held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from Riverside chapel. The main services were conducted by the Rev. E. W. Wright, and the burial service by the Masonic lodge with Dr. J. A. Holmes in charge.

The active pallbearers were H. G. Saecker, Arthur Behling, A. A. Wetzel, Olin Meade, Joseph Koffend, Jr., and Herman Wildgen, and the honorary, Dr. A. W. Kanouse, Dennis Meidam, J. D. Hanchett, William Wilson, Mr. Wilder and Mr. Merkel.

Mr. Heckert was a member of the Masonic order, Odd Fellows and George D. Eggleston post, Grand Army of the Republic.

Among those who attended from out of town were: Charles Mann, Mayville; Louis Machmuller, Andover, S. D.; Miss Marie Manger and Miss Sadie Louise Heckert, Denver; Miss Margaret Manger and Harvey Manger, St. Louis; Miss Viola Behling and Arthur Behling, Clintonville.

J. G. MOHR, SR.

J. G. Mohr, 338 Atlantic st., has received word of the death of his father, J. G. Mohr, Sr., 72, at the latter's home at Waveland, Miss., Wednesday morning. Mr. Mohr has been the postmaster at Waveland for the last eight years. The body will be taken to Milwaukee where interment will be made Friday.

JOSEPH WEINBERG

Joseph Weinberg, 83, a former employee of the street department, died Tuesday at his home at 1294 Spencer st. He is survived by his widow; three sons: John, Birnamwood, Joseph and Felix, Appleton. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon.

VALLEY MILITARY CLUB WILL ELECT

Several Appleton men will attend the annual meeting of the Fox River Military Rifle and Pistol club in Neenah army Thursday evening. Officers from Neenah-Menasha, Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Green Bay will be present as well as those men from each city who took part in the competitive school last year.

Officers will be elected at 6 o'clock and plans for the year made. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock to be followed by short talks from Wisconsin officers including Gen. Charles R. King of Milwaukee; Adjutant General Orlando Holway and his assistant, Lieut. Col. Byron Beveridge, Col. C. T. Quill and Col. C. F. Hammond. Major Albert Tucker, Major Fred Hoffman, Captain Ivaux Miller, Lieut. Eric Lindberg, Lieut. Irvin Grundeman and Lieut. C. Schroeder will attend with the team from Appleton.

CITY IS REMOVING SNOW FROM DOWNTOWN SECTION

Employees of the street department were engaged Wednesday in removing the large amount of snow that had accumulated on the streets of the business district within the last few days. With the aid of scrapers and scoops, the snow began to disappear quickly.

Although the snowfall of the last few days was quite light, winds caused the snow to drift and make traffic somewhat laborious, as was evident from coughing engines of automobiles.

Country roads were subjected to winds and drifts and stalled automobiles were a common occurrence. One man who had driven through the country with a horse and sleigh, said that automobiles were not moving. The only five automobiles he saw were stalled at the side of the road.

JOHNSON INSTALLED AS MASONIC CHAPTER HEAD

Oscar Johnson was installed as high priest at the meeting Tuesday evening of Appleton chapter of the Masonic order. Other officers installed were: King, Walter Storck, scribe, William Roocks; captain of the host, William Ackermann; royal arch captain, Harvey Younger; treasurer, William Roocks; secretary, Charles Thompson.

Mrs. C. J. Wolcott of Dale is visiting Appleton friends.

Mrs. John Purves of Wisconsin Rapids is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. K. Pratt, 626 Lawe-st.

Rummage Sale News

Published Daily During Rummage Week By The Pettibone-Peabody Co.

Vol. 4 APPLETON WISCONSIN, JANUARY 10th 1923 No. 3

BASEMENT SHOE SECTION CLOSING SATURDAY

FUR COATS REDUCED 40%

Other Ready-to-Wear Economies Sure to Draw Thursday Crowds.

The fur coat stocks of the second floor have long held a reputation for unusual beauty and sound prices. From these showings a group of racoon coats has been selected for a Rummage high spot.

RACCOON COATS REDUCED All of these coats are made of selected skins, in the choicest shadings for this fur. Coats that were formerly $285, are reduced to $185. Former $325, racoon coat are $225; racoon coats that have been selling at $365, are reduced to only $250. Fur coat reductions average forty per cent.

NEW DRESSES The special advertisement below carries ten items taken from the stocks of dresses offered in Rummage. These particular dresses are very nearly brand new. They have been in the store only a few weeks. The styles are identical with models being shown for early spring.

The reductions come very near being half price. While the saving is not as great as in the case of garments that have been in the department a much longer time—the appropriateness of the stylings more than equalize the difference.

Cloth coat reductions continue in prominence throughout the week.

DRESS GOODS ARE SACRIFICED

Wool coatings that have been selling at $2.75 to $4, a yard are reduced to $1.98. The assortment includes blue and brown mixtures, novelty weaves, herringbone tweeds and velour plaids. All are 54 inches wide.

Very fine wool coatings are reduced from $6.50 a yard to $2.48. There are tan and rust chinchilla, blue silver-tip, and velour in wine, taupe, brown and navy, 54 inches wide.

Skirtings that will make up very attractively right now are reduced from $3 and $5, a yard to $1.98. Included in this price concession are velour checks, plaid, homespun and ratone checks, sponge and crepe stripes. These materials come in the fifty-six inch width.

ALL-WOOL SERGE 85c A surprising Rummage value in serge offers a regular $1.25 quality at 85c a yard. This material is shown in wine, brown and navy—and is 40 inches wide. The finish is soft.

WOOLENS AT $1.39 One large assortment of wool dress goods includes a wide range of fabrics at the low price of $1.39 a yard. Black nun's veiling, navy and brown herringbone serge, and French serge in navy, Copenhagen, tan and black make up the lot.

$8.50 VELVETS—$4.95 The entire stock of chiffon velvets is on the way towards being entirely sold out by the close of Rummage for the price reductions bring regular $8.50 quality down to $4.95. These velvets are 40 inches wide, and come in sapphire, old rose, green, brown, navy and black.

Hosiery Section Continues High Spot With Silk Hosiery at $1.19

Rummage week of this January will long stand out for its marked bargains in hosiery. Many of these items were bought especially for this sale. Full-fashioned silk hosiery is considered an outstanding bargain at $1.19 a pair. The quality comes in black only, and usually sells at $2, a pair.

Glove silk stockings, with a colored top, are bargains at $1.95 a pair. All-wool hosiery, in navy, black and white, is only 88c. The leather goods department has a big special offering in purses at $1.

GLOVE ITEMS FOR THURSDAY PLACE TO BUY GOOD SWEATER

The corner on the left of the main doorway has drawn a goodly percentage of customers as they entered the store. On these counters one may find a pair of gloves, a length of ribbon, or a handkerchief, at the desired Rummage price.

GLOVES Misses' wool gloves in short lengths are shown in brown, grey and white. They are reduced from 60c to 39c. Children's double mittens—a regular 50c quality—are now 38c. Children's brushed wool gauntlets, regular $1 and $1.25 values, are only 69c. The reduction brings many of them to half price.

RIBBONS An attractive selection of five-inch hair ribbons is reduced from 28c a yard to only 9c. Shades of pink and blue are shown. Eight-and-a-half inch ribbons are reduced from 38c to 39c. This price brings plaids, satin mode stripes, and patterns with satin centers and floral taffeta edges. Short lengths of two-toned ribbons come in two and three yard lengths—with a picot edge. 35c qualities are reduced to 15c a yard.

Waist baskets that were 65c and 75c each—are now offered specially at 39c. There are three sizes.

Blouses Are Favored For Spring—and Very Good Rummage Economies

The wise woman shopper is buying a new blouse at the reductions that are in effect during the Rummage Sale. The clever woman wears a new blouse with a skirt of last year—and presto, a new costume is the result.

Fresh, crisp blouses can be bought this week at very favorable pricings. They feature the decided colorings that are forecast for the Spring season.

A graceful blouse of jade green Canton crepe is reduced from $12 to $3.95. The new shade of biscuit, or navy blue, can be had in another Canton blouse at $6.75—reduced from $12. A Canton crepe blouse in the bayberry shade of red is reduced from $15.50 to $9.95. A blouse of navy Canton, trimmed with peasant embroidery is reduced from $17.50 to $9.95.

CHILDREN'S SWEATERS Fine wool pull-over sweaters for children are only 89c. The price would hardly pay for the wool that is used in each garment. Children's all-wool belted coat styles are $1.69. They are finished with two pockets and come in white only. Slightly soiled infant's knit wear is marked at half price during Rummage week.

WOMEN'S SWEATERS All-wool sweaters in fancy weaves can be had in coat-styles or slip-over models at $3.95. Fine wool coat-sweaters in the Shaker knit weave are $4.95. They have a shawl collar.

TOILET GOODS COUNTER Holds Many Rummage Surprises For Shoppers

Such a small section as the toilet goods and notion counter looms up in great proportions when such attractive values are offered as these. At the toilet goods counter, three packages of Lux can be bought for only 25c. The 75c boxes of Three Flowers face powder are reduced to 59c.

Standard sized jars of Marjoline lotus cream and foundation cream are especially good bargains at only 29c. The new Ipana toothpaste is reduced from 59c to 39c.
